PRICE OF COTTON HIGHEST IN YEARS

August Shorts Forced Twenty Cents on New York Market Yesterday.

WOULD BREAK BULL CONTROL

Most Spectacular in Annals of Cotton Trade Since Civil War—Two Sensational Advances During Day—Situation.

New York, Aug. 29.—August cotton sold at 20 cents a pound in the New York cotton market today on urgent demand of speculative shorts, who had postponed covering until the last moment, in the hope that the increasing new crop movement in the Southwest might break the control of the bull leaders.

This price, and exceeding by nearly 2 1-2 cents per pound the highest figure reached in the famous bull year of 1903-04, which until now had stood as a standard of comparison, was regarded by many as the culminating point of the bull movement in progress here for the last six months, during a season which, when it ends next Thursday, will go down as the most spectacular in the annals of the cotton trade since war times.

Not a great many bales—perhaps 15,000—actually changed hands on the advance from 16.82, the closing price of last week, to 20 cents for August this morning. At 20 cents, an offer from W. P. Brown, one of the bull leaders, to sell 100,000 bales checked the upward movement and it was the general impression around the ring that this was a level fixed in the open market as a basis for settlement of the entire August interest remaining.

Later, however, this view of the situation was somewhat shaken by the fact that, after reacting from 20 cents to 18.20 under scattered selling of a few hundred bales, August again advanced on renewed buying by shorts touching 19.90 in the afternoon, or within 10 points of the high record. At the close August was quoted at 19.75 bid.

In the local spot markets the price was marked up to 19.75, but the Southern spot markets showed no such gain, the greatest advance recorded being 3-8 cent at Savannah, showing the local character of the extensive advance.

No one has attempted any accurate figuring of the profits of the big bull leaders—Brown, Eugene G. Scales and Frank B. Hayne—all of whom are under indictment charged with conspiring in restraint of trade in connection with the bull pool. James Patten, of Chicago, is included in the indictment, but in view of his repeated announcement of retirement he was not generally considered a party to today's transactions.

In all the bull leaders have handled spot cotton to the amount of 800,000 bales, valued approximately at $65,000,000. But the bulk of this has been shipped abroad and just how much of it has been sold and how much of it may now be held on consignment at foreign points is uncertain. Inasmuch, however, as the bulls have handled contracts for many thousand bales in excess of those upon which they have actually received cotton, they have undoubtedly taken large speculative profits, no matter how their deal may turn out when their last bale of spot cotton has been sold. In the New York stock they still own about 100,000 bales.

Rumors circulating in the trade after the close of business today were that there was still a considerable August short interest outstanding, which has until noon on Wednesday to cover.

At that hour trading on August is over, and with it ends all business in the old crop season of 1909-10.

For the last three or four months the bull campaign in the old crop, though based chiefly upon the fact that the crop grown during the Summer and Autumn of 1909 was 3,000,000 bales under normal requirements, has had the encouragement of very unfavorable reports from the coming crop and predictions that the world was facing a future inadequate supply. Naturally, another short supply, following a year of general curtailment and procrastination in purchases of both raw material and finished goods, might mean another season of extremely high prices, and this expectation undoubtedly encouraged the bull traders in their policy of carrying spot supplies forward into the new season.

Latterly reports concerning the prospect have been confusing. Owing to drouth in the Southwest, deterioration has been reported in that section, but whether conditions over other parts of the cotton belt since the 1st of August have been considered much more favorable. The next report of the government on condition will be issued at noon next Friday and, owing to the conflicting nature of recent private advices, opinions as to its showing largely vary.

Opinions as to whether the bulls will extend their operations into the new crop months are conflicting. Some think that the old crop campaign will be carried through September at any rate, but as the new crop season opens next Thursday and new crop cotton is now moving rapidly in the Southwest, the weight of the new maturing crop must be figured on.

SCIENCE TO MASTER LEPROSY

Achievement of Three United States Surgeons May Result in Cure of Hitherto Unconquerable Scourge—Great Success.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Leprosy, the unconquerable scourge of the ages, is making what is believed to be its last stand against science. From Molokai, the Ceral Island prison for the plague stricken in the Hawaiian group, a few words have been flashed half way around the world to Washington telling of an achievement accounted second only to the discovery of the lepra bacillus by Hansen in 1879.

Three surgeons of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, after months of toil, have grown lepra bacilli in pure culture outside the human body, and in tiny thin glass tubes in the laboratory, the loathsome germs are now growing in their third generation.

Four times the scientists have taken the infection from the body of a leper and artificially propagated the bacillus on beef broth, egg or the amoeba of the intestines of a guinea pig. The work of Dr. Moses R. Clegg, who declared less than a year ago at Manila that he had found that the bacillus could be cultivated outside the human body, is verified and extended. Clegg has been rushed from the Manila scientific station to Molokai to assist in the experiments.

This achievement of the scientists at the government's leprosy investigation station, is the first step in the production of a vaccine or a serum for the cure or prevention of leprosy. Precisely the same ground has been covered by the men who evolved the daptheria anti-toxin and the serum for tetanus. In each of these cases the growing of the germ in pure culture has been the stepping stone to the cure.

Dr. Donald H. Currie, director of the station, Dr. Walter R. Brinkerhoff and Dr. H. T. Hollmann are the men who have grown the cultures. After four months careful work in which they had labored to grow the lepra bacillus in the amoeba of pond water, guinea pig intestines and other low forms of animal life they were about to give up defeated.

Some of the tubes containing the specimens were about to be destroyed when one of the men determined to make a last inspection of the cultures in a forlorn hope. To his astonishment he found the germ living. The discovery spurred the investigator to new effort and back over the blazed trail they had covered so often they worked again.

Curry obtained a pure culture which means he has eliminated the amoeba and the cholera bacillus and now has the lepra bacillus propogated of itself. The others have been grown through to ten generations.

Aside from the hopes of evolving a serum or a vaccine for a prevention or a cure of the scourge, scientists hope the investigators may find a lepresine, which like tuberculine would detect the disease in its first stages.

SOUTH CAROLINA VOTES TODAY

Liquor Question Dominent Issue in Campaign.—Six Out For Governor. Situation on the Eve of the Primary.

Columbia, S. C., Aug. 29.—For twenty years the liquor question has been more or less the dominant issue in South Carolina politics. In the Democratic primaries to be held throughout the State today the issue is clear cut as between State wide prohibition and the present local option law under which 37 of the 43 countries in the State have prohibition. In the six "wet" counties liquor is sold under a county dispensary system with strict regulations against selling to drunkard or minors, or after sundown, or on Sunday, or behind screened doors, and only in original packages with drinking on the premises prohibited. The profits are divided between the city where the dispensary is located and the county.

Nominations are to be made today for all State and county offices and for Congress from each of the seven districts—and in each instance nomination is equivalent to election. Only in the race for Governor and in contests for members of the Legislature will the liquor question play any part.

There are six candidates for Governor, three who favor State wide prohibition, two local optionists and one who is making a mere "personal" canvass.

Thomas G. McLeod, of Lee county, the present Lieutenant Governor, and Col. L. Blease, Mayor of Newberry and twice before an unsuccessful candidate for Governor, are the local option candidates. C. C. Featherstone, of Laurens, an unsuccessful candidate for Governor in 1898; Capt. John G. Richards, Jr., of Kershaw, for the last two years the leader of the prohibition forces in the House of Representatives, and F. H. Hyatt, a business man of Columbia, are running on a State wide prohibition platform. John T. Duncan of Columbia, is the other candidate.

As the rules of the Democratic party in this State require a majority vote to nominate, there will be a second race between one of the State widers and one of the local option candidates, to be settled in a primary to be held two weeks after the first election.

Even should one of the prohibition candidates be chosen Governor, it does not follow that South Carolina will have statewide prohibition, as in the election of members of the Legislature the personality of the candidates usually plays a more important part than does any "issue."

Again, one-half of the members of the present State Senate hold over, with two years yet to serve, and a half dozen others have no opposition for re-election.

In several recent sessions of the Legislature, the Senate has prevented the enactment of a State wide prohibition law, even after the House had overwhelmingly indorsed it, and it is admitted that this body will be closely divided in the approaching January session of the Legislature with no certainty as to what faction will be able to show a majority.

Their votes for a tariff on lumber in the special session last year have resulted in determined fights being made upon two members of South Carolina's present congressional delegation, J. E. Ellerbee in the Sixth district and A. F. Lever in the Seventh. The contest in the Sixth especially has been heated and at a recent campaign meeting a fisticuff between Mr. Ellerbe and one of his opponents, P. A. Hodges, occurred.

Representatives Wyatt Aiken in the Third and J. T. Johnson in the Fourth have no opposition.

In the First district, Representative Geore Legare is opposed by J. H. Lesesne of Manning. In the Second, Representative J. O. Patterson is opposed by Solicitor J. F. Byrne of Aiken and C. W. Garris of Bamberg. In the Fifth, Representative D. E. Finley is opposed by Solicitor J. K. Henry of Chester and T. B. Butler of Gaffney. In the Sixth Representative Ellerbe is opposed by P. A. Hodges of Bennettsville, B. B. Sellers of Marion and G. W. Brown of Darlington. In the Seventh, Representative A. F. Lever is opposed by Dr. W. W. Ray of Richland.

The following State officers are unopposed for re-election: R. M. McCown, Secretary of State; A. W. Jones, Controller General; R. H. Jennins, State Treasurer; J. E. Swearingen, Superintendent of Education. Charles A. Smith, Prohibitionist, of Florence county, and E. Walker Duvall, local optionist, of Chesterfield county, are candidates for Lieutentant Governor. James Canseller, O. C. Scarborough, G. M. Mahon and McDuffie Hampton are candidates for Railroad Commissioner to succeed Maj. John Hearle, who is not offering for re-election.

Attorney General J. Fraser Lyon, who won national notice by his prosecution of State dispensary grafters, is opposed for re-election by Barnard B. Evan, of Columbia.

Maj. Charles Newham, of Columbia, W. W. Moore of Barnwell, and Capt. J. M. Richardson of Aiken, are candidates for Adjutant and Inspector General to succeed J. C. Boyd.

TAFT SEES PLANS TO RAISE MAINE

Regarded Favorably by the President and May be Adopted Soon.

O'ROUKE'S SCHEME PLEASES

Battleship Now in Havana Harbor May Be Sailing Homeward Before Next December—An Appropriation of $300,000.

Bevery, Mass., August 29.—If plans which President Taft regards favorably are adopted, the battleship Maine, sunk in Havana harbor 12 years ago, which since then has concealed the secret of the disaster which overwhelmed her, may be sailing homeward on or before Christmas, bearing a long delayed verdict to the nation.

John F. O'Rouke, president of the O'Rouke Engineering Construction Co., of New York, submitted the plans today to President Taft. Both were much interested if not enthusiastic when Mr. O'Rouke departed from the Summer capital with instructions to meet the President in Washington during the last week in September when definite plans will be made.

The government is asked to furnish men, tugs and other things to co-operate with the O'Rouke forces in raising the Maine out of her grave of mud and water. In this way Mr. O'Rouke says the work can be done within the appropriation of $300,000 made by Congress. A commission has been appointed to study the plans and pronounce judgment when President Taft and Mr. O'Rouke meet for the final conference in Washington.

The President favors the immediate selection of an engineer to undertake the task without going through the usual procedure of advertising for bids. It is not certain, however, that bids can be dispensed with.

The plan provides for raising the Maine by means of pneumatic caissons and steel cables. The ship will be preserved intact, Mr. O'Rouke says, with every evidence of the disaster which she may bear. It is proposed to construct on piles a line of wharves about 20 feet from either side of the ship. Between it and the wharves will be sunk pneumatic caissons to a depth of about ten feet below the keel of the Maine. Cables will be passed down one side of the caissons under the Maine and up the other side to the caissons there. These cables will be placed at intervals of four feet and form a cradle in which the Maine will rest. The combined strength of the cables will be four times the weight of the ship.

Jack screws to which the ends of the cables will be fastened will be placed on platforms erected over the caissons and when the jacks are operated the tightening cables will raise the Maine from her berth of mud and gradually lift her clear from the water. The caissons are planned to have a capacity of 50 per cent more sustaining power than the weight of th eMaine.

As the caissons are called upon the support of the Maine pneumatic devices will be installed which will increase their efficiency so that they will not sink in the mud. About 1,000 men and other equipment and it is proposed will be required to attend to the jacks that the government furnish all or a part of this force, calling out a regiment if necessary.

TEDDY CRITICISES HIGHEST TRIBUNAL

Cites Two Decisions Contrary to the Principles of Democracy.

WARM WELCOME TO ELK CITY

Flays Supreme Court Before Colorado Legislature—Also Delivered Address to 15,000 People on Conservation.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 29.—Acts of the Supreme Court of the United States were sharply criticised by Theodore Roosevelt today in an address in the State capitol here before the Colorado Legislature.

The former President cited two decisions by the Supreme Court which, he declared, were contrary to the principles of democracy and said emphatically that if those decisions indicated the permanent attitude of the court the entire American system of popular government would be upset.

Col. Roosevelt's speech before the Legislature was one of five that he delivered in Denver today. Everywhere he went he was greeted by cheering multitudes. The auditorium in which he delivered his speech on conservation, holds 15,000 people and yet it was large enough to seat only a part of the throng that sought admission.

Speaking to the Colorado Legislature, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"I am anxious that the Nation and the State shall each exercise its legitimate powers to the fullest degree. When necessary they should work together, but above all they should not leave a neutral ground in which neither State nor Nation can exercise authority, and which would become a place of refuge for men who wish to act criminally, and especially for the very rich men who wish to act against the interests of the community as a whole.

"Let us illustrate what I mean by a reference to two concrete cases. The first is the Knight Sugar trust case. In that the Supreme Court of the United States, under cover of what a man, whose interest is chiefly in sane constructive stewardship, can only call a highly technical legal subtle, handed down a decision which rendered it exceedingly difficult for the Nation effectively to control the use of masses of corporate capital in interstate business, as the Nation obviously was the sole power that could exercise this control (for it was quite beyond the power of any one State). This was really a decision rendering it exceedingly difficult for the people to devise any method of controlling and regulating the business use of great capital in interstate commerce. It was a decision nominally against National rights, but really against popular rights.

"The second case is the so-called New York baker shop case. In New York City, as in most large cities, the baking business is likely to be carried on under unhygienic conditions, conditions which tell on the welfare of the workers and therefore against the welfare of the general public. The New York Legislature passed, and the New York Governor signed a bill remedying these improper conditions. New York State was the only body that could deal with them; the Nation had no power in the matter.

"Acting on information which to them seemed ample and sufficient; acting in the interest of the public and in accordance with the demand of the public, the only governmental authority having affirmative power in the matter, the Governor and the Legislature of New York took the action which they deemed necessary, after what inquiry and study was needed to satisfy them as to the conditions and as to the remedy.

"The Governor and the Legislature alone had the affirmative power to

Among those taken into custody are Felix Pedro Zelaya, former Minister of Finance, and Jose Dolores Gomez, former Minister of Public Works during the regime of President Zelaya; Miguel and Tomas Bermudez Merchante and Francisco Torres, the notorious governor of Rama in 1894.

The police also endeavored to serve a warrant on Manuel Cotonel Matus, a prominent liberal congressman and journalist, but as they appeared to hand him the document, he placed the barrel of his revolver in his mouth and killed himself.

POPE AGAINST SOCIETY.

Orders Dissolution of French Catholic Organization.

Rome, Aug. 29.—Pope Pius, in a letter to the French Episcopate, orders the dissolution and re-organization under the bishops of the French Catholic "Sillon" Society, on the ground that it is propagating a false dream of democracy and the equality of man—"a principle contrary to nature, a generator of jealousy and subsersive of social order."

The letter adjures the faithful not to be deceived by the mirage of a false democracy, saying "the church has never deceived the people by compromising alliances and it can restore the organizists broken by revolutions and adapt them to a new situation created by the material evolution of contemporaneous society. The true friends of the people are neither revolutionaries nor innovationists, but traditionalists."

Paris, Aug. 29.—The Sillon Society is an organization of young Catholics, which was inaugurated during the pontificate of Pope Leo XIII., for work among the masses with the object of reconciling them with the church. It has many ramifications among workmen's organizations.

PENNANT DREAMS.

Still at the pinnacle.

All aboard for Goldsboro tomorrow.

Raleigh was taken a little further below the danger line yesterday.

And those Goldsboro people may say that it was hard luck that it rained.

'Phone one-nine-seven and a seat will be reserved for you on the Goldsboro excursion tomorrow.

Had it not rained yesterday it was possible for a mighty change in the percentage column, and any game now may decide the question.

"At the suggestion of several of the lady attendants, the ladies will be charged admission to the grand stand in Raleigh just as they have been in all the other towns of the league the entire season. This will give the ladies an opportunity to help the cause in a small way."—News and Observer. We wish to correct this false impression, Brother McDonald, as the ladies have never been charged admission to the grandstand here.

To Mr. Miller of the esteemed Charlotte Observer we would like to ask in behalf of ourselves and our Railroad neighbors, that he correct his table of the standing of the clubs in our league. For almost a week he has been badly off, and since we have ascended to the top of the ladder, we would like to get it corrected. Wilmington was tied with Rocky Mount for first place Friday night, and by winning Saturday's game we established ourselves on top with a percentage of 556, and the Railroaders come next with 519. If he will refer to any of the papers around the circuit he can get a correct standing of the clubs.

A crowd of the "true in heart" are working to get up an excursion to go to the game at Goldsboro tomorrow, and after a consultation with the Coast Line officials yesterday announced that the train would be run if as many as one hundred would take advantage of it. As the game yesterday was rained out, a double-header will probably be played and even if only one game is pulled off, 'twill be well worth the price as every game now is liable to turn the tide, and decide where the pennant will wave next year. If 100 fans will signify their intention of going by 'phoning or calling at Struthers Cigar store today arrangements will be made, and the crowd will go on the morning train leaving here at 8:30, and return on the extra leaving as soon as the game is over. The fare for the round trip has been placed at the ridiculously low amount of $2.00 so that as large a number as possible may go, and they are asked to leave word at Struthers' before 1 o'clock this afternoon.

We, evidently having different likes and desires to the dopist on our esteemed evening contemporary, are not looking for "trouble." Furthermore, we positively refuse to have any "trouble" until something arises that is of enough importance to have "trouble" over. In writing our squibs for this column Saturday night and looking over a record of the games of the past three weeks, we were struck with the number of games in which third baseman Cooper bobbed up with about half the glory of winning the game Then we let our mind wander back to the days when the season was in its infancy—and a puny youngster it was, and through our mind ran flashes of comments heard and seen at that time player. We certainly were not directing our remarks wholly in the direction of our respected neighbor, but we will acknowledge that we did have him in mind at the time. Although at the time, we were not holding down this end of the paper, the man we succeeded was a writer better qualified in every way to judge such matters than we, and we will cheerfully compare notes with our friend, feeling sure that the prospects of the different members of the club, Cooper included, were more nearly forecasted in these columns than in our even contemporary. We beg to differ with our friend when he says that Cooper has been "more consistenaly boomed here than elsewhere," and even if this were true, we think, taking that "hee-haw" period into consideration, he deserves considerably more from that source than any other, as the past refuses to bury its dead under any other circumstances. We are aware of the fact that our friend has had considerable experience in baseball, and should be qualified to judge something of the merits of players, but in the case of Cooper, he seems to have been "bumfuzzled" for once. We would also like if he hungers for a conviction of some one, to submit the question to the member of the team in question, or to the whole team, as we eat and sleep with them and know something of their sentiments along this same subject. As far as we are concerned we will say what we please about any member of the club, but we decline to enter into a bitter war of words with him as long as we must sit on the same press bench and interrogate the same scorer, but if he wishes to run the argument to a conclusion by submitting the proofs, we will be on the job after next Monday, and we presume our place of abode is also as well known as his own.

GREAT INTEREST IN CONTEST.

Fans Casting Votes for Their Favorite Baseball Players.

The contest to determine the most popular member of the Wilmington baseball team in the Eastern Carolina League, as announced in Sunday's Star, met with instant favor with the fans and fannabelles of the city and a large number of votes were cast yesterday for each of the players with Kite probably leading. Friends of the respective players are working hard for their favorites and many purchases are being made at the stores carrying an ad on the contest page. The Ramos Typewriter Company, in its advertisement Sunday morning, announced that the typewriter of the first person to call at the store yesterday morning would be overhauled free of charge. When Mr. J. S. Ramos the manager, went down to open up yesterday morning he found some 25 or 30 persons with typewriters. It took no little effort to ascertain who called first, but finally it was decided that Pearsall & Co., was the first on the scene. A typewriter belonging to this concern is, therefore, being overhauled free of charge in accordance with the advertisement.

KAISER SPEAKS AGAIN.

Address Was Counterpart to One Delivered Last Week.

Danzig, Aug. 29.—Emperor William at a dinner tonight in the Castle at Marienburg, the old seat of the Knights of Malta, given in his honor by the dignitaries of the province of West Prussia, made a speech which was a counterpart of that delivered last week at Koenigsberg. Taking up the religious vein of the Koenigsberg speech, which His Majesty evidently regarded as having been misunderstood by the press, he said:

"When I represented myself, like my sainted grandfather, as being under the protection of the highest and as working under the highest commission of our Lord and God, I assumed that every honest Christian, who ever he might be, did the same. Whoever works in this spirit knows well that the cross imposes obligations. We should hold together in brotherly love and we should leave to each race its peculiarities. The races and trade organizations should join hands for common work and for meeting the State's necessities."

AL. ORTH IN TROUBLE.

Wilmington Ball Player Charged With Slapping Small Boy.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Aug. 29.—"Smiling" Al. Orth, a member of the Wilmington Baseball Club, got himself into trouble tonight when he slapped Master Hugh Dortch, a son of Col. W. T. Dortch, one of Goldsboro's leading lawyers. At this writing it is impossible to get a correct report as to how the trouble originated. Some witnesses say that the ball player slapped the Dortch boy and kicked him, while on the other hand others say that he only slapped him. It seems that a crowd of "kids", together with the Dortch boy, were playing near "Smiling" Orth, when one of the "kids" pushed the Dortch boy against Orth, who, at this juncture, slapped him. The Dortch boy left the scene of trouble which occurred at the Kennon Hotel crying, and when Col. Dortch received a report of the matter he at once went to the hotel in search of Orth, but the ball player had disappeared and up to this writing had not been located, although a thorough search is being made for him by the city police.

Other members of the Wilmington ball team were very much surprised when they heard of the trouble and in expressing their opinion in regard to the matter they say they are quite sure that Orth did not mean to hurt the boy and all seem to regret the trouble very much. If Orth puts in his appearance he will be given a hearing tomorrow morning.

SMUGGLED IN JEWELS.

Mrs. Adriance Must Explain Where Valuables Were Purchased.

New York, Aug. 29.—Although charged specifically with smuggling into this country a pearl necklace, a gold purse and a lace mantle valued in all at $8,000, Mrs. I. Reynolds Adriance, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., must explain where she bought other jewelry valued at more than $100,000 before she is out of the custom inspectors net here. According to a statement made at Collector Loeb's office today jewels with a total value of $115,000 were found in the woman's possession and seized, while from her daughter, Marion, a $3,000 pearl necklace was confiscated, and a third necklace was taken from Mrs. Mary H. Doughty, a traveling companion.

These additional jewels do not figure in the smuggling charge against Mrs. Adriance who gave $7,500 bail today after waiving examination, but they are held pending investigation and the production of bills covering each piece. The necklace taken from Miss Adriance, she says, was purchased in this country, but lengthened abroad by the insertion of eight pearls The other jewelry Mrs. Adriance says was bought in New York. She was given until Thursday to substantiate her statements.

The necklace on Miss Adriance was found by women inspectors in a chamois bag tied around the young woman's waist. It was discovered after the Baltic docked late yesterday, but the fact did not come out until today.

WOMAN'S BODY IN RIVER.

Mystery Surrounds Death — Well Dressed and Attractive.

Philadelphia, Pa., August 29.—Weighted down with a heavy stone enclosed in a hammock, which was tied tightly around the waist, the body of a well dressed and attractive woman was found lying in three feet of water at low tide today in the Delaware river near Torresdale, a fashionable suburb. The identity of the dead woman and the manner in which she met her death are mysteries which the police authorities are working to clear up.

A handbag containing a quantity of jewelry, a gold watch and a $5 bill, was attached to her neck by a gold chain. The watch had stopped at 5:05, at which time it is supposed she either was thrown or threw himself into the water on Sunday afternoon.

SWEDISH MINISTER RETIRES.

Doubt About Reason for His Retirement—Toasted the Party.

Stockholm, Aug. 29.—The official statement that the retirement of Mr. Lagercrantz from the post of Swedish minister at Washington, was due entirely to his personal wishes does not convince the public. The common belief is that the real reason for the diplomat's return is to be found in the speech which he delivered in New York and in the course of which he is reported to have toasted the probable success of the Republican party in the coming campaign.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Acting Secretary of State Adee stated positively today that Mr. Lagercrantz had not become persona non grata to the United States and that no objections had existed, as far as the American government was concerned to his representing Sweden at Washington.

New York, Aug. 29.—The assertion was made here tonight that Ambassador Lagercrantz, far from toasting the success of the Republican party, had on the contrary, referred to Mayor Gaynor as one who might be the next President. His speech was made here not long ago to a gathering of Swedish singing societies and the passage referred to was quoted as follows:

"We have heard from our past President; we have heard from our present President, and tonight you have heard from our future President."

Mayor Gaynor had just spoken and messages had been read from President Taft and Col. Roosevelt.

The case recalls the retirement of Sackville-West, who was recalled as British minister in 1888, following the publication of an indiscreet letter in reply to a request for advice from a naturalized Englishman, who was in doubt about the impending campaign. On admission that the letter was genuine, President Cleveland at once sent Lord Sackville-West his passports.

Miss Hattie Hodges, 609 S. Fifth St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "Since using Doan's Kidney Pills I have felt better in every way and am pleased to add my testimonial to the many already given in favor of this remedy. I had kidney trouble for years. My back ached most of the time and when I stooped or lifted, sharp pains caught me across my loins. I had but little strength or energy and was also bothered by a kidney weakness. I used one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Robert R. Bellamy's drug store and they disposed of the backache, strengthened my kidneys and gave me ambition and energy."

THE PRIMARY IN COLUMBUS

L. W. Stanley Only Candidate Who Seems to Have Majority—Funeral of Mrs. Smith—Other Personal and General Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, Aug. 29.—The county primary, held last Saturday, passed off quietly, but the result was quite a surprise to the people. All the precincts except two small voting places, have been heard from, and these cannot change the result.

Only one candidate, Judge L. W. Stanley, Clerk of Court, has received enough votes to insure his nomination on first ballot at the county convention, to meet next Wednesday at 11 A. M. For the other offices the vote is divided, with no candidate having a majority. Messrs. R. H. Powell, of Whiteville, and J. M. Shipman, of Welch's Creek, lead in the legislative contest, and they are about even. Prof. B. A. Marlowe, of Old Dock, comes next, and he can decide the contest. For sheriff the votes between Mr. Richardson, present incumbent, and Mr. Best, is nearly equal, while Mr. Thompson, of Hallsboro, holds the balance of power, and can name the winner, if he does not himself come in. For Register of Deeds, the highest candidates are Mr. Smith, now in office, and Mr. Hester, of Chadbourn, while Mr. McDaniel, of Whiteville, has enough votes to nominate either, if he gives away his strength. But Mr. McDaniel is (hopeful of himself winning.

For Treasurer, the vote is badly mixed between a half dozen candidates, with perhaps Mr. Harrelson slightly in the lead. The county convention, to meet next Wednesday, will be very exciting, and a big crowd is expected in town to watch the contest. At this time no one can anticipate the winning ticket.

There is but little interest taken in the Congressional primary as yet, as the county contest overshadows all else. But after Wednesday things will again enliven up, and the Godwin and Clark forces organized. There is but little if any feeling manifested, not near so much as in the first contest. The people are entirely satisfied about the action of the State Democratic Committee, in ordering a primary, and the election will simply be a friendly contest between Democrats. A primary is the only settlement of the muddle that would have satisfied the people, but now that this is given them, both candidates will have a fair and equal showing. It is not thought the Godwin-Clark matter entered our county primary last Saturday, for supporters of both candidates lead for certain offices.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Chas. C. Smith were held in the Baptist church at this place and was conducted by Rev. Rufus Ford, of Marion, S. C., on Sunday afternoon and the remains of this consecrated Christian woman were tenderly laid to rest in the Whiteville cemetery. One of the largest funeral processions ever seen in our town followed the remains of this loved woman and the floral offerings were large and beautiful.

Mr. Luther Tillery, of Rocky Mount, is visiting at the home of Mr. A. F. Toon today——Messrs Fred Ford and Hess Williamson have returned from a visit to Washington, Baltimore and other Northern cities——Mr. Spears, of the Bank of Dunn, was in Whiteville yesterday——Dr. T. C. Johnson, of Lumberton, is in our town today. He came over to see Mrs. Johnson who has been spending some time with relatives here——Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Memory returned yesterday from a Northern trip——Mr. Walter Toon, formerly of this county, but now holding an important position in Asheville is here on a short visit to relatives——Rev. F. T. Wooten left today for Wake Forest where he goes to attend a meeting of the State Superintendents of Education. He will also visit Chapel Hill before returning home.

Rev. D. C. Geddie, pastor of the Methodist church at this place, had the misfortune yesterday to lose his fine driving horse from blind staggers. Several animals have died in th's county recently from that disease. Some persons say it is due to eating soured Western corn and a great many others say at this season a web appears on grass and weeds and is fatal to stock when eaten.

Mr. Oscar High has moved his family back from their Summer home at Lake Waccamaw and reports a most delightful time spent there.

Columbus county is behind Robeson so far only as the cotton crop is concerned. Your correspondent has heard of no one as yet starting to pick cotton. The crop is very late this year.

It is predicted that we will have an unusually early frost and if so the crop will be cut short. All old farmers say that all signs point to the earliest frost this Fall in years.

MORVEN'S FIRST BALE.

Sold Yesterday by P. E. Ratliff to T. V. Hardison.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Morven, N. C., Aug. 29.—The first bale of new cotton was sold here today to T. V. Hardison, by P. E. Ratliff. The bale weighed 517 pounds. It graded good middling, and sold for 16 cents and was expressed to W. I. Henderson Co., Charlotte, N. C. This cotton was grown on a Pee Dee river farm. Mr. Ratliff has sold the first bale of cotton in the State for several years past.

This year the palm seems to have been yielded to Robeson, the Star's telegraphic column on Sunday having carried the news of the sale of the first bale by Col. E. F. McRae to Mr. J. W. Carter, of Maxton, for 16 3-4 cents.)

Paris, Aug. 29.—Miss Katherine Elkins whose reported engagement to the Duke of the Abruzzi continues a matter of social interest, today proceeded to London after spending the night here. She is accompanied by Mrs. R. S. R. Hitt. It is understood that they will return to Paris at the end of the week. Mrs. Elkins remains at Vichy.

SENATORIAL CONTROVERSY.

Donald MacRackan, Esq., Writes His View of Clarkton Nomination.

Mr. Editor:—At the request of a number of my friends, I wish through your columns to give a brief account of the proceedings of the caucus which was held by a delegation from Columbus county to the Senatorial Convention at Clarkton, N. C., on the 10th inst.

The caucus was called to order by Mr. J. A. Brown, chairman of the Executive Committee of Columbus county, who upon calling the same to order, announced the purpose was to nominate a Senator to represent this District in the next General Assembly. After the preliminaries incident to the permanent organization were disposed of, nominations were called for. The names of Jackson Greer, C. C. Pridgen and Donald MacRackan were placed before the caucus as can-order and the roll call begun. It was distinctly known to all that Mr. C. C. Pridgen was not a candidate for the nomination, and would not accept if nominated; hence the race was between MacRackan and Greer. The chairman then announced the instructed vote from Columbus county for Greer and MacRackan, as certified by the chairman, J. A. Brown, and the secretaries, was as follows, to-wit: 16 25-100 for Greer and 16 4-100 for MacRackan, which instructed vote was accordingly given to Greer and MacRackan on the first ballot. Greer's vote was slightly increased by one or so votes from some precincts that were not included in the instructed vote. MacRackan's instructed vote was increased by the entire vote of South Williams township, being three, and the entire vote from Fair Bluff township, being two. The vote of Fair Bluff township was first announced and then the vote from South Williams township was announced, making MacRackan's vote 21 4-100. The chairman ruled that the vote from Fair Bluff township and South Williams township was an instructed vote for C. C. Pridgen, and ruled that the delegates from those two townships did not have the right to change their vote to MacRackan, and ordered those two townships called and informed the delegates that they must correct their vote, giving the same to C. C. Pridgen.

The delegates from those two townships representing the entire vote from those townships had agreed to change their vote from Pridgen to MacRackan, and this was announced in the convention. The delegates from Fair Bluff and South Williams townships did not change their vote but continued to cast the same for MacRackan until the convention adjourned at 5 o'clock P. M. A motion was then made to adjourn and was carried.

The result of this one and only ballot was never declared. When the caucus reassembled in the afternoon, the chairman called Hon. E. M. McClough, of Bladen county, to the chair. Mr. Greer, realizing his defeat, placed the retired chairman, Mr. J. A. Brown, in nomination. The greater part of Mr. Greer's vote was then given to Mr. Brown and a portion of MacRackan's instructed vote was then taken from him by a few persons who were opposed to his nomination and also given to Mr. Brown, over the solemn protest of Donald MacRackan then and there entered. By this unwarranted procedure, Mr. Brown's friends worked up a bare majority for him nnd he was declared the nominee of the caucus. He was then escorted to the chair by D. J. Lewis, Esq., and the chair presented the dark horse candidate who had been so suddenly transformed from the chairman of the caucus to the nominee of the same.

The maneuverings that were resorted to in the caucus pending this transformation, time and place will not permit me to relate. A further account of the proceedings will be better given by submitting a few questions to Mr. J. A. Brown, chairman, which I respectfully ask him to answer through the columns of this paper.

1. Did you not, as chairman of the Executive Committee from Columbus county, certify to the caucus that Donald MacRackan had received an instructed vote from Columbus county, amounting to 16 4-100?

2. Was the vote from South Williams township, or any part thereof, included in MacRackan's instructed vote?

3. Is not South Williams township entitled to three (3) electoral votes in the Senatorial Convention or the caucus?

4. Was the vote of Fair Bluff township, or any part thereof, included in the instructed vote certified by you for Donald MacRackan?

5. Was the strength of Mr. C. C. Pridgen, or any other candidate taken in the primary held in either South Williams township or Fair Bluff township?

6. Is not Fair Bluff township entitled to two votes in the Senatorial Concention or caucus?

7. Is not the vote of Columbus county in the Senatorial Convention or caucus, forty-one (41) and no more?

8. Would not the candidate who received any fraction of a vote more than 20 1-2 votes be entitled to the nomination in the caucus or Senatorial Convention?

9. Did not Donald MacRackan on the first ballot receive his entire instructed vote, to-wit: 16 4-100?

10. Did not Donald MacRackan on the first ballot receive two votes from Fair Bluff township and three from South Williams township?

11. If you will add the two votes from Fair Bluff township and the three votes from South Williams township to the instructed vote of 16 4-100, will you not have 21 4-100 votes?

12. Is not 21 4-100 votes a majority of the votes Columbus is entitled to in the convention or caucus, and would not the candidate receiving 21 4-100 votes have been entitled to the nomination?

13. Did not Mr. C. C. Pridgen tell you or state in your hearing, that he would not accept the nomination if it were tended him?

14. Did you not state in the convention that you would not, or could not enter the race for the nomination, so long as the name of Donald MacRackan remained before the House as a candidate? If so, why did you so state?

After answering the above questions which I respectfully ask you to answer, please state to those Democratic voters of Columbus county, who voted for Donald MacRackan's nomination in the primaries, and to those delegates who voted for his nomination from townships that were not instructed, which constitute a majority of the Democratic voters of Columbus county, how you can with any degree of propriety or regard for the will of the people, consider yourself the legitimate nominee of the convention held at Clarkton on the 10th inst.

Mr. J. A. Brown, who was chairman, erred in his ruling when he ruled that the vote from South Williams and Fair Bluff townships was an instructed vote for Mr. C. C. Pridgen, as his strength, nor that of any other candidate, was taken in the primary in either of those townships ,and upon that ruling after the vote of those townships had been cast for MacRackan, the chairman ordered the vote cast as though it were an instructed vote. This ruling would have been wrong if the vote for Mr. Pridgen had been an instructed vote, for the reason there were two-thirds of the Pridgen delegates present casting the vote for MacRackan, who had before the caucus assembled held a meeting and decided to give the vote from those two townships to MacRackan, which, under the Democratic plan of organization, they had a right to do, and when the chairman ruled to the contrary, his ruling was erroneous, in that, he interfered with the discretion that two-thirds of the delegates present had the right to exercise under the Democratic plan of organization. The changing of the vote as cast before announcing the ballot was in violation of Sec. 51 Plan of Organization.

I state, without the fear of successful contradiction, that Mr. Joseph A. Brown is not the nominee of the caucus held at Clarkton on the 10th inst. and I challenge him to controvert the facts herein alleged. And I emphatically state that Donald MacRackan received a majority of the votes cast as hereinbefore shown on the first ballot in the caucus, and is, therefore, the legitimate nominee of the caucus. This is not a matter of speculation, but was actually demonstrated by vote then and there cast. I will venture, there is not another man except Joseph A. Brown in the county, who would have entered the race for the nomination after a clear majority of the votes from Columbus county had been cast for MacRackan.

This writer lays down the three following propositions and challenges any man to disprove either of them:

1. That Donald MacRackan, on the first ballot in the caucus, received 21 4-100 votes, the same being a clear majority of the votes that Columbus county is entitled to in the nominating convention.

2. That the nomination of Donald MacRackan was prevented and defeated by the failure of Mr. Joseph A. Brown, chairman, to announce the ballot as cast, which failure was in direct violation of the Democratic plan of organization. Sec. 51.

3. That the said Joseph A. Brown, chairman, after making the ruling which this writer contends was erroneous and wrong and in violation of the party law, accepted what he calls the nomination. As to the report that someone has circulated that the namination was forced on Mr. J. A. Brown, this is not true, as was plainly shown from the following facts: There were only seven delegates, to-wit: Messrs. J. T. Wooten, William Wayne, Warren Wright, J. J. Faulk, H. N. Powell, E. M. Worley and Best Williams, who were present from townships that were not instructed in the caucus, and five of those representing five votes, to-wit: Warren Wright; J. J. Faulk, H. N. Powell, E. M. Worley and Best Williams, voted for MacRackan, leaving two uninstructed delegates who could cast their vote as they saw fit. The nomination of Mr. J. A. Brown was not the choice of that caucus, not the choice of the voters of Columbus county, but is the result of an effort on the part of the few who were present who were trying to defeat MacRackan's nomination, and did not themselves really want to nominate J. A. Brown.

This writer here reaffirms his allegiance to the Democratic party, but denounces any such trickery as was practiced in that convention, whereby the nomination of Mr. J. A. Brown was accomplished, as unfair, unjust and undemocratic, and would not be countenanced by a committee of such honorable gentlemen as those who recently constituted the committee appointd to settle the Sixth District controversy, who when the committee decided to order primaries in the Sixth District, cast a sad rebuke on every individual who matriculated in the memorable Wrightsville convention, they, as exponents of the true principles of Democracy and adherence to the party law, showed by their decision.

A few persons have tried to establish the fact that the people of Columbus county did not want either MacRackan or Greer. This they cannot sustain. If you will take the instructed vote of MacRackan and Greer and add them together, you will have 32-40 of the vote of the county, add it to the five votes that MacRackan received from Fair Bluff and Williams townships and you will have 38-40 of the vote of the county. This leaves 2-40 of the vote of the county which seems to have preferred some other to MacRackan or Greer, which 2-40 of the county I presume, are now satisfied with the present nominee.

DONALD MacRACKAN.

HEAVY RAINS REPORTED.

In Nash and Edgecombe Counties Crops Have Been Damaged.

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 29.—The heaviest rains of the year in all parts of both Nash and Edgecombe counties are reported to have been those of the past several days and are still continuing. The first of the rain in this section came on Friday afternoon, and for two hours it rained as hard as at any time this Summer, and this has been followed by shower after shower every few hours. From the farmer's standpoint fodder has been seriously damaged, while the loss to cotton is daily growing larger, as the rains continue and the loss is in huge proportion. It will require a late and a dry Fall for the cotton crop to anywhere near measure up to what is expected of it. Responsible farmers declared today that with three more days continuance of this rain, there would not be half a yield.

Roads are in a poor condition as the result of the washing rains and two of the rural letter carriers were unable to make their routes on Saturday and today due to the fact that bridges were either washed away or were impassable. It is expected that with a ceasing of the rains these bridges will be immediately repaired, or the work may be done today and these letter men will make their regular routes as soon as possible.

S. S. S. CURES OLD BLOOD TROUBLES

The only possible way to cure Contagious Blood poison is to remove the cause by purifying the blood. This is just what S. S. S. does; and it is the only medicine that absolutely and thoroughly cleanses the circulation of every particle of the germs and virus of the disease. Mercury, Potash, and other strong minerals are often used in the hope that such powerful treatment will kill the germs, but this can not be done, and when the mineral medicines are left off the trouble always returns with its aggravating symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, skin eruptions, falling hair, yellow skin splotches, swollen glands, and often running sores. The ability of S. S. S. to cure Contagious Blood Poison comes from its unfailing blood-purifying properties. It goes into the circulation and removes every trace of the infection, makes the blood rich and healthy, and leaves no dregs of the virus to break out later on. S. S. S. does not contain a particle of mineral in any form, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks each of which has a direct and specific action in cleansing the blood. In addition it contains the extracts of certain botanical herbs which make it the finest of all tonics, which is a necessary quality for a medicine in curing Contagious Blood Poison. Home Treatment book, containing much valuable information and instruction to be found nowhere else, will be sent sealed and post paid, free to all who write and request it.

Tuesday, August 30, 1910.

President Taft now proposes to apply "scientific methods" in getting up a tariff law. If that is done, President Taft will first have to get rid of the tariff artists and have scientists sent to Washington in their stead.

Since Col. Roosevelt has come off the fence and got to talking to suit the insurgents out West, New York's William Barnes, Jr., wants the Colonel called a Populist. The Colonel doesn't care what they call him so he thinks he is getting in with the biggest crowd.

The wild Africans called Col. Roosevelt Bwano Tumbo. If he doesn't be careful the Indians will call him Heap Big Talk. If the Colonel could do all he says he would do he might redeem the record of a Roosevelt administration which had lots of thunder in it and very little lightning.

The Hon. S. S. McNinch, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, began to go wrong by becoming a "Roosevelt Democrat." The Taft Republicans are now calling Roosevelt Republicans Democrats. If this thing keeps up, Mr. McNinch will be a little embarrassed on the stump if he attempts to tell just exactly what he is.

Col Roosevelt while in Wyoming, Saturday, seems to have been in his natural element, riding and whooping and yelling with the cowboys, punchers and Indians. The whole thing was laughable and ridiculous for a man who had been President of the United States. That is the reason why paragraphers and editorial critics must be pardoned by those who protest against the newspaper levity with which Col. Roosevelt and his doings are treated.

Republicans deny that the tariff increases prices which consumers have to pay. Then, why don't they reduce the tariff in order to prove that to the fool consumers? However, if they were to do that the beneficiaries of protection would accuse the Republican party of violating its platform pledge "guaranteeing profits" to the manufacturers of this country by reason of the tariff duties levied in order to make sure of good prices. The tariff surely is making Republicans flounder like a fish out of water.

Said a Beverly dispatch concerning President Taft's "keynote": "While he is still convinced that the Payne-Aldrich law is the best tariff law the country has had up to this time, he has at last reached the conclusion that there is decided room for improvement." The reason it needs further revision is that it was revised in the house of its friends. Its friends were bent upon protecting their special interests and overdid the thing, as they usually do, with malice aforethought, or from proneness to aid the trusts while they entirely overlook the interests of the people. The tariff should be revised by the friends of the consumers represented in the Democracy of this country.

The Columbia Record and the Richmond Times-Dispatch have jumped on certain Northern writers for attempting to write so-called "Southern dialect" as she is spoken by some alleged Southern white folks. Of course, the "dialect" is ridiculous and some of it we cannot even understand, Southerner as we are. So-called Southern dialect is something like alleged Southern cooking, of which there are about as many specimens as there are families. The same can be said of Northern cooking. Some Northern and some Southern people know how to cook to the Queen's taste, while some Northern and some Southern people do such cooking that it would bring on chronic dyspepsia among the house cats.

TAFT AND THE TARIFF.

If Democratic papers hed kept up with the record of President Taft with reference to the tariff, they would not be commending his "keynote" utterance to the effect that he will favor "further reduction." Further revision would hold out the idea to the people of the country that there had been a previous revision in their interest, whereas there has been no such thing. It has been demonstrated, schedule by schedule, that the Aldrich- Payne Tariff law is not a revision but on the average is the highest tariff tax this country ever had in its history.

Upon this question the venerable Senator Isadore Rayner, of Maryland, one of the most profound constitutional lawyers and students of economics in this country, is contributing to the Baltimore Sun a series of the most illuminating articles.

The distinguished Senator in one of his articles shows that the Dingley law, which preceded the present tariff law, was the highest of our tariff laws and that the Aldrich-Payne law is still higher. Senator Rayner demonstrates that, while the average rate in the Dingley law was 44.16 per cent ad valorem, the average rate in the new law is 45.87 ad valorem. The Baltimore Sun commenting upon the demonstration of the facts made by Senator Rayner pronounces the Aldrich-Payne law "An Act of Perfidy," and that reliable paper says the increase was made "to swell the profits of the industries of New England, and with higher prices and heavier burdens to the American consumers." The present tariff, declares Mr. Rayner, is "the highest tariff ever imposed by any commercial nation in the history of the world."

Now let us see how President Taft stands upon this question. In a speech in Milwaukee just previous to his election Mr. Taft said: "On the whole, the tariff ought to be lowered. It is my judgment that a revision of the tariff in accordance with the pledge of the Republican party will be, on the whole, a revision downward." Senator Rayner, and expert accountants having experience with previous tariff bills, prove that the Aldrich-Payne law was not a revision downward "in accordance with the peldge of the Republican party," but a revision upward. Nevertheless, after the law had been passed President Taft in pronouncing a eulogy upon Aldrich declared that "the new tariff law is the best the country has ever had." The President was absolutely correct in that statement if he meant that it was the best tariff law the country ever had to protect and enrich the favorites of Republicanism.

At Topeka, Kansas, October 3rd, 1908, Mr. Taft said in his speech: "The principle of protection is that all industries that need it shall be protected by a customs tax equal to the difference between the cost of production here and the cost of production abroad." In the same address, acknowledging the reasonableness of the people's complaint against the high tariff then prevailing, Mr. Taft said "the Dingley bill, which has served its purposes and served it well, has brought about conditions in which the schedules are generally too high." It must be noted that previously he had declared that the Republican platform pledged itself to a revision downward. Upon its platform pledges and Mr. Taft's promises in his speeches the Republican party went before the people in the election in 1908 upon the distinct and unequivocal promise that, if successful, tariff duties would be lowered. Taft was elected, the Aldrich-Payne bill was enacted into law and the figures prove that it is, according to the Baltimore Sun, "an act of perfidy, a flagrant violation of the plighted faith of the Republican party." President Taft in his speeches indicated that he fully understood the platform promises of the Republican National Convention for a downward revision and he promised that himself. While the schedules higher on the average, the tariff bill was before Congress, and Aldrich and Payne were making its President was mum and when the bill was passed he accepted it and praised Aldrich for it.

The result of the perfidy of the Republican party in failing to relieve the people of burdensome tariff taxes to enrich special interests, and the failure of the President to urge Congress to comply with his promises to the people and the party's solemn platform pledge, has been widespread insurgency in the Republican party. How can a Democratic paper now commend Taft for favoring a "further reduction" when there has been no reduction and when he never fulfilled his 1908 promise to secure reduction? The Republicans may go on the stump and claim that the present tariff law is a reduction but experts have proven by the figures that the Aldrich law is 45.87 per cent ad valorem compared with 44.16 for the Dingley bill. The point which we make is should a President be commended for making promises which neither he nor his party have fulfilled and cannot be trusted to fulfill?

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

During the seven months ended July 31st, 1910, the fifty principal articles exported from the United States to foreign countries amounted to $895,500,000, while the fifty principal articles imported from the foreign countries amounted to $917,600,000. This shows a balance of trade against us. These figures are taken from the late statement of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor, Washington, D. C.

The United States are now buying more than they sell, and while it may indicate that we have the money with which to buy, the truest sign of prosperity would be that we were selling more than we buy. The increase in importations over the corresponding period last year amounts to $87,000,000, of which two products, rubber and sugar, furnish nearly half the increase during the seven months. The value of the increased importations of rubber and sugar amounts to $43,000,000.

An increase of almost a round $25,000,000 is shown in the value of importations of India rubber, which it is said, affects very largely the tremendous demand for automobile manufactures in connection with the higher grade of the product. Sugar importations during the seven months indicate a spectacular advance of $17,500,000 over corresponding totals of 1909, which is said to be "due in some measure to a higher price level." These two items of rubber and sugar, therefore, contribute in round numbers $43,000,000 of the total increase of $87,100,000 in importations during the seven months in question.

Coffee imports, on the other hand, are $16,400,000 below the 1909 figures. The explanation of this reduction is the ban placed upon Sao Paulo coffee exports by a prohibitive tax which virtually prevented the shipments of coffee between January 1st and June 30th. This is sufficient to prove that a prohibitive tariff restricts trade.

The feature of the statement of the Bureau of Statistics is the falling off of manufactures, and an increased importation of manufacturers' materials. The largest single item of products which we imported during the seven months was raw sugar, $86,500,000, and the largest single item of our exports was cotton manufactures amounting to $173,400,000. The exports of cotton goods to our foreign customers fell off $13,200,000 compared with the seven months of 1909. Notwithstanding our reduced exports, the South continues to furnish the material which constitutes the biggest item in the list. While this is a cotton country, we imported during the seven months raw cotton valued at $10,100,000, an increase of $200,000. During the seven months the exports of cotton seed oil, cake and meal amounted to $19,500,000, another Southern product.

During the seven months the exports show a decrease generally in raw cotton, wheat, flour, meats, illuminating oil and copper. There has been increased exportation of lumber, leather, agricultural implements, lubricating oil, naval stores, steel rails, scientific instruments, boots and shoes, automobiles, steel sheets, builders hardware, rubber manufactures, typewriters, sewing machines, structural steel, books, paraffine, electrical machinery, metal working machinery, and furniture.

The reduction of the tariff on hides and skins has increased our importation of those articles to $58,400,000, compared with $53,800,000 in 1909. We are buying more hides from foreign countries at less tariff and are shipping more shoes to foreign countries than last year, but the home markets gets no benefit of the reduction in the price of shoes, because the manufacturers of shoes are protected and the trusts are so firmly combined that they fix prices without regard to the law of supply and demand.

When things get dull where Senator Heyburn is, play "Dixie". If it makes Heyburn mad play "Dixie" for fun.

If Uncle Joe's own party would like to make a scapegoat out of him, bedads, he must know that it's the likes of a scarecrow that the Democrats would make of him.

Commercial Democrats have another thought coming to them. They will find out sooner or later that in the long run principles count more than dollars and cents in politics.

Insurgency in the Republican party means that a host of Republicans realize that their party has gone wrong and their insurgency is for the purpose of reclaiming their party.

If Vice President Sherman hadn't been doing like he has been doing lately he might make a better impression when he delivers those campaign speechs to North Carolinians in October.

"Shall the people rule?" The question should be, will the people rule? They will not if they don't go to the polls and vote for the best man instead of leaving their elections to political bosses.

President Taft practically repudiated Vice President Sherman and it was but a faw days afterwards that Sherman eulogized Taft. Sherman is equal to a North Carolina Republican in taking a kick and then trailing in after the kicker.

CURRENT COMMENT.

We think it pretty well settled that all danger of a Republican Congressional victory in the Sixth has been eliminated.—Greensboro Telegram.

We do not think that Mr. Blair stands much of a show in this district, still it may not be best for the Democratic candidate to take that view of it.—Durham Herald.

Resolving that "Uncle Joe" Cannon "must go" is something like resolving the same thing with respect to the English sparrows. The real problem is to convince either "Uncle Joe" or the sparrows.—Washington Herald.

Why doesn't Morehead make his Republican party take the first step towards "respectability" by voting for the Hon. Charles M. Stedman for Congress in the Fifth District? That would be doing one "decent" thing.—Wilmington Star. 'Twould be better to rid himself of the taint of Butlerism in Morehead's camp.—Durham Sun.

The campaign in the Fifth Congressional District is to be opened on September 5th, at Spray, Congressman Morehead's home. Major Stedman is to lead off—to fire the opening gun—and will be followed by Governor Kitchin and Mr. S. Porter Graves. Stedman is one of the best equipped orators in the State and so far as talking is concerned he will need no help. The assistance of such men as Kitchin and Graves, however, will do no harm.—Charlotte Chronicle.

So that man Allison, of Asheville, who murdered three people before he got the death sentence, is playing the craven by threatening suicide. It was always so. The fellow who goes constantly armed (as Allison did) is the biggest coward living. He has no courage except that inspired by the possession of a deadly weapon and that gone he becomes all but an object of pity. The pistol toter should go to the roads, instead of paying a fine, before he loosens his trigger up.—Salisbury Post.

The observant editor of the Shelby Highlander remarks: "The press associations which supply news to the papers of the country are models of fairness and impartiality. News reports are written from a standpoint of mere fact, without comment or taking sides, yet they are as spirited in the narration as the most partisan could desire. When an article is headed 'By the Associated Press,' you can put it down that it is correct, ninety-nine cases out of a hundred." This is an assertion of fact. The better class of newspapers—the class that has come into public appreciation—are as careful to have their local as well as their general news reports free from color or bias. The editorial news item is an abomination and a thing to be avoided.—Charlotte Chronicle.

One day last week The Chronicle received an inquiry from the editor of a paper in a small town in New York State as to how the commission form of government was panning out in this State. This is merely indicative of the interest that is being felt all over the country in this new form of municipal government. All over the North and South the commission form of government is being discussed. There is something behind it, and The Pensacola, Fla., Times undertakes to explain it. That paper says the people are realizing that "it not only puts them in the saddle more completely than is possible under the aldermanic system, but simplifies the government and eliminates the world of troublesome red tape that is an essential part of the old order of things." That is the case in a nutshell. We are hoping that Mecklenburg's representatives in the next Legislature will be studying up on this proposition.—Charlotte Chronicle.

Some people economize in order to save money to get what they want just as soon as they accumulate sufficient money to pay for what they are determined to buy.

North Carolina Republicans who pretend to endorse Taft and Roosevelt at the same time would be able to ride two horses going in opposite directions.

PLANT MAY NOT BE SOLD.

Blewitt's Falls Develpoment Will be Resumed.

(Special to News and Observer.)

Wadesboro, Aug. 28.—Reaptedly during the past few weeks the rumor has circulated that the Blewitt's Falls hydro-electric power plant which is under construction was to be sold. The Rockingham Power Company, the corporation organized to build the plant after a season of financial difficulties went into a receivership and the property was finally sold. The bondholders purchased the plant and property and it is now in their hands. Col. Fred J. Coxe, local attorney for the company, was in New York two or three days ago and while there saw and talked with several persons largely interested in the plant. From them he learned that a sale of the property has not yet definitely been decided upon, and that it is still possible that arrangements may be made to raise money to complete the development. However, it is more than probable that a sale will be ordered if arrangements to finance the company are not made in the nexe 60 days. The completion of the plant means much for the industrial development of this entire section and with the work already more than half finished the hope is that financiers may take an interest in the proposition and push it to completion at an early date.

SHERMAN FOR PRESIDENT.

Missouri Village Launches Boom for the Vice President.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 29.—If you run a stubby forefinger southwestward across Missouri starting at St. Louis, you will strike Marshfield.

Marshfield, Webster county, in the Ozark mountains, is where it first saw the light of day, "it" being nothing less than the Presidential boom of Jas. S. Sherman.

Mr. Sherman seemed a bit surprised to be thus started buoyantly on the road to the highest office in the gift of the people, but bore up bravely.

The space in front of the court house was pretty well filled when the speaking began.

Arthur P. Murphy, representing the Sixth District in Congress, launched the Vice President's boom. The Presidential aeroplane left the ground at Mr. Murphy's last words.

"And now," said the Congressman, "I wish to introduce to you the Vice President of the United States whom I regard as our next President."

Webster county seemed favorable. It clapped its hands, waved a few hats and the bass drummer over in the bandstand whacked his drum.

Mr. Sherman defended the Payne-tariff bill and urged his hearers to use the greatest care in their selection of men for the Legislature as that body would be called on next Winter to name a United States Senator.

SUNDAY AT THE BEACHES

Large Crowds Visited Resorts Near Wilmington—Two Near-Drownings at Wrightsville Beach. Rescue.

Notwithstanding the fact that the present season is drawing rapidly to a close and hotel men are now beginning their plans for a still more successful season in 1911, there were large crowds at both Wrightsville and Carolina beaches Sunday. The weather being ideal for a few hours' sojourn at the resorts, all had a most delightful time. In addition to several hundred townspeople who went to the beaches there was a large number from neighboring towns, taking advantage of the special excursion rates on the A. C. L. Besides, there were quite a number at the hotels and boarding houses who have been guests of the resort for some days and will not return to their homes until the formal closing.

The morning trip of the steamer Wilmington did not carry such a large number to Carolina Beach, but the boat was well crowded in the afternoon. There the afternoon was most pleasantly spent. There were quite a number in surf bathing while others enjoyed themselves in a stroll up and down the beach. Many remained until the late boat, taking supper at the Carolina Beach Hotel, which is now under the management of Mr. H. C. Pearsall and is giving most general satisfaction.

At both the Tarrymoore and Seashore Hotels, Wrightsville Beach, the registration Sunday was rather heavy for this late in the season. Many guests arrived on Saturday as well as Sunday. Some of these will be at the resort most of the week and some will stay longer. The Tarrymoore Hotel announced some days ago that it would be open until September 5th, Labor Day, and the Seashore will be open until October 1st. That is, the rooms of the Seashore will be open until that time and meals may be secured at the Seashore Cafe, just across the car tracks from the popular hostelry. The rooms in the hotel will be at the disposal of the public until the time mentioned. It is planned to keep the cafe open all the Winter. An unusually large crowd was fed at the cafe Sunday.

Lumina, of course, had its full share of the visitors, morning, afternoon and evening. There were quite a large number of persons in the surf, both in the morning and afternoon and there came near being two tragedies during the day. The first occurred between 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning, when there were but few persons in the surf. Mr. Forest Craddock, of this city, an employe of the Jacobi Hardware Company, being the central figure. Mr. Craddock went in the surf with his friend, Mr. William F. Tomz, of this city. The undertow was particularly strong and Mr. Craddock was caught in an offset and was being carried beyond the second reef in front of Lumina. Mr. Tomz was very tired himself and he realized that he could not give assistance to his friend. Mr. Craddock was nearly exhausted but made a magnificent fight for his life. A more spectacular battle for life against the wild breakers has not been seen at the resort this season. Several hundred persons looked on with bated breath for they expected every minute to be the young man's last. Finally, a fish boat was launched and after much difficulty made its way to the point where Mr. Craddock was struggling. After still more difficulty Mr. Craddock was landed safely in the boat and taken ashore where restorative measures were resorted to. After several hours the young man recovered his strength and came to the city.

In the afternoon about 4 o'clock Mr. E. L. Whitehead, of Rocky Mount, was caught in an off-set. He realized his danger and began at once to call for assistance. Life Saver Freeman Yopp was on duty at the time and went to the young man's rescue with a life line. Mr. Whitehead was so nearly exhausted that he made an attempt to fight Mr. Yopp, who adopted the strenous measures, evidently recalling the fierce struggle he had with Young Hurley, who lost his life from exhaustion last week. Mr. Yopp gave the young man a severe blow in the face, thus controlling his struggles. Mr. Whitehead was brought safely to shore by the life saver. After a few hours Mr. Whitehead had recovered his strength and was able to return home in the afternoon.

ESCAPED FROM JAIL.

Tillman Shepherd Makes Rush on Brunswick Jailer Sunday.

News was received in this city yesterday to the effect that Tillman Shepherd, colored, placed in jail at Southport Friday to await the next term of Brunswick Superior Court on the charge of larceny of an ox, made a rush on the jailer Sunday morning and succeeded in making his escape. From the information received here the negro concealed himself near the door to the cells and when the jailer went in to give the prisoners their breakfast Sunday morning slipped by unnoticed and to freedom. The local police, when informed by a Star representative of the reported escape of the negro, did not express any surprise; they knew what a character he is. Shepherd, it will be recalled, was arrested in this city last Thursday morning and was confined during the day at the City Hall. In the afternoon of that day he attempted to cut his way out of the cell in which he had been placed. He cut one of the upright bars in two and would very likely have effected his escape had it not been for the timely discovery of Capt. "Bob" Green, the hall officer, who immediately transferred the negro to another cell. The negro had not been recaptured yesterday afternoon, according to the information received here.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

Brunswick County Interdenominational Association to Meet at New Hope Presbyterian Church Thursday of This Week.

The first semi-annual meeting of the Brunswick County Sunday School Association, a branch of the State Interdenominational Association, will be held at New Hope Presbyterian church at Winnabow Thursday of this week and a message from Brunswick county last night was to the effect that reports indicate a very large attendance from practically every Sunday School in the county in addition to a number of visitors from other counties. Dinner will be served on the ground in good old-fashioned picnic style and all who attend are assured of a most pleasant time as well as an opportunity to learn more of the scope and purpose of Sunday School work. The public generally is invited to attend.

The association will be called to order at 10 o'clock Thursday morning by the president, Rev. W. V. MacRae, of Southport. After the devotional exercises an address of welcome will be delivered by Rev. L. Tate Newland. From 10 to 11 A. M. is set apart for the opening address by State Secretary J. Dan Carter. This will be followed by the enrollment of delegates and appointment of committees. From 11 to 11:45, "How to Get the People in Sunday School," will be the topic for discussion, led by Mr. E. W. Taylor. From 11:45 to 12:30 "Organization," or, "How to Keep the People in the Sunday School," will be discussed, led by Rev. L. Tate Newland. Adjournment will be taken at 12:30 for dinner, which will be served on the grounds.

The convention will reassemble at 2 P. M. The first hour will be given over to a business meeting, presided over by the president, Rev. W. V. MacRae, of Southport. This will be followed by a discussion led by department leaders on "Organization by Department; Township Organization," after which there will be an address by Secretary Carter. From 3 to 4 o'clock is set apart for an address by E. H. Cranmer, Esq., of Southport, on "The Ultimate Object of the Sunday School." The convention will come to a close with the address of Mr. Cranmer.

REV. T. A. SMOOT IN NORFOLK.

Grace Methodist Church pastor Scores the 20th Century Man.

The following from yesterday's Norfolk (Va.) Landmark relative to a sermon preached by Rev. Thos. A. Smoot, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, in Norfolk Sunday night will be read with much interest here:

"Roundly scoring the twentieth century man on his selfishness of home life, the Rev. Dr. T. A. Smoot, of Wilmington, N. C., preached to a large congregation at the Epworth Methodist Church last night upon "The Supremacy of the Cross." Dr. Smoot forcibly brought out in his sermon that the man of today was doing everything in his power to make his family comfortable and his home life luxurious and gave too little thought to the matters of the church. He said that he had heard men say that they would love to take an active interest in church affairs, but so much of their time was taken up with business and their home that really they would have to leave that part to the men who had more time on their hands.

"He likened these kind of people to man who had taken out no life insurance but lives up to every dollar of his income, that after he had lived out life's short span there was nothing but darkness for him beyond. These men might work hard for their family and leave to his children a legacy of worldly comforts, but he was doing them the terrible wrong of not teaching them to revere the name of God. Dr. Smoot compared the non-Christian to a man without a country, who selected an island on which to live with his family, he owed allegiance to no flag, but was a prey to every pirate of the seas. Speaking in the same strain he said that the man who did not love and worship his creator could not and did not love his family in the true sense of the word for loving meant protecting and looking out for their welfare and how could a man do for the welfare of his children who by leading a life away from God by his example was also leading them away.

"In closing Dr. Smoot said, 'Men shudder at the name of the Cross for the Cross means some sacrifice, every man has a cross to carry and the true Christian, laying before the feet of God all selfish interests, takes up his. I do not ask you to love your wife and children less, but to love God more.'"

LADY CHOKED BY NEGRO.

Assault on Dock Street Saturday Night Reported Yesterday.

Report was made to the police yesterday morning of an assault committed on a white lady Saturday night at her home on Dock, between Eighth and Ninth streets, by a negro man, who had evidently gone upon the back porch for the purpose of stealing something. The lady had occasion to visit the back porch some time after dark and she was horrified to see a negro man standing only a short distance from the door. Just as she started to make some outcry she was seized by the negro man and badly choked. The negro adopted this means to silence the lady while he made his escape. Before she was in condition to give the alarm the negro had left the premises.

THE SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK

IN THE RECORDER'S COURT

Several Minor Cases Tried at Yesterday Morning's Sitting—Pathetic Plea of White Man Charged With Drunkenness.

There were several cases on the Recorder's court docket for trial yesterday morning, but none of any special interest. The first case was one in which Calvin Clark, colored, was charged with carrying concealed weapons. Clark, a hard-working negro, who says he has never been in court before, was arrested late Saturday night by Patrolman Stevens on Second, between Chesnut and Grace streets.

The officer said that the negro was acting in a suspicious manner. Upon making a search of the negro's pocket a razor was found. This constituted a the offense for which he was tried yesterday morning. Clark told the court that he had been to a barber shop to have the razor sharpened and was on his way home when arrested. The Recorder held that the negro was violating the law by carrying the razor in his pocket on the streets even if his statement were true. A fine of $10 and costs was entered in this case and the amount was paid.

Robt. Townsend and Robt. Myers, colored, were called to answer the charge of assault on W. H. Jordan, colored. Jordan swore out a warrant for both negroes but when he took the stand yesterday he testified that only Townsend had a hand in the assault. The case against Myers was dismissed and Townsend was assessed $5 and costs.

John Ward, aged white man, had been drinking too much and was in court to answer to the charge of drunkenness. He showed plainly the effects of over-indulgence in "prohibition drinks," his nerves being so badly upset that he sat jerking in his chair. When the testimony of the officer making the arrest had been heard, the defendant arose and appealed to the court for mercy. His plea was pathetic and touching. "Please, your honor," he said, "I desire to say a word, to ask for mercy. I am an old man and I can't stand much. It did not take much to throw me. Please, sir, let me go, I will leave town at once." He was standing, shaking from head to foot, as he made his effective plea. He stated that he was from Richmond, Va. "You may go," said the Recorder, "but if you are in the city tomorrow morning I will have an officer arrest you and send you to the roads."

"I will not be here," said the poor fellow as he hurried from the court room.

J. P. Heigh, a white man, was also up for drunkenness. He came to Wilmington on one of the trains Sunday afternoon and was so far gone when he arrived that he lay flat down in the passenger coach, it is said, and refused to budge. He was finally taken out and rolled around on a trunk truck and later turned over to a policeman. In his plea for mercy the defendant said that he had suffered a stroke of paralysis some time ago and made the usual excuse of not being able to stand much of the ardent. He was allowed to go upon payment of the costs.

Another white man was arraigned on the charge of drunkenness, but the case was dismissed, it appearing that the man was not intoxicated to any considerable extent, and, also, that he was taken from the porch of a friend where he lay quietly.

RUNAWAY SUNDAY MORNING.

Little Son of Dr. M. M. Caldwell Had a Narrow Escape.

The prompt and heroic action of Mr. Benjamin J. Cottle, of Mr. R. R. Bellamy's drug store, Sunday morning, probably saved the life or serious injury of Master Morris M. Caldwell, Jr., the three-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Morris M. Caldwell, who was the sole occupant of a buggy to which was attached a runaway horse. Richard Gallagher, colored, driver for Dr. Caldwell, had the child in the buggy for a ride. He stopped the team in front of Dr. Caldwell's residence on Sixth, between Market and Dock streets, to drive a puppy back in the house. The child was left alone in the buggy. The horse took fright and dashed off down Sixth and into Market street at a rapid rate of speed. Gallagher was only a short distance away and he grabbed hold of the reins, and was dragged for nearly a block, but he was finally forced to relinquish his hold, his hands having been lacerated and his clothing torn. He followed the wild animal as fast as he could. When the horse crossed Front street, continuing his journey toward the river, Mr. Cottle ran out and fortunately caught hold of the reins. He was dragged to within a short distance of the river before being able to bring the animal to a stop. The child was uninjured, but naturally badly frightened, but he refused to cry. Had Mr. Cottle not succeeded in stopping the horse the result can only be conjectured. The animal would very likely have either gone into the river or turned the corner at Market and Water so snarply that the vehicle would have been overturned. In either event, the child very probably would have been seriously injured or killed.

ALLEGED HIGHWAYMAN CAUGHT.

Charlie Hankins Arrested Last Night on Serious Charge.

A search of a week or ten days by members of the police for two negroes wanted for highway robberies recently committed near Sixth and Campbell streets, resulted in the arrest early last night of Charlie Hankins, colored, who is formally charged with holding up and robbing Charlie Tyson, colored, at Sixth and Campbell streets, and relieving him of $8. The negro was located in an alley back of the Hemenway graded school and was placed under arrest by Patrolman J. J. Moore. Hankins was committed to jail without bond to await hearing before the Recorder. The day following the hold-up a warrant was sworn out for the negro and although officers have been close behind him several times they were unable to approach near enough to arrest him until last night. There is another negro implicated in the robbery and the officers are searching for him.

NEW HANOVER FOR MEARES

Will Give Him Her Three Votes in Republican Congressional Convention Today—Other Candidates —Delegates Named.

Iredell Meares, Esq., member of the law firm of Meares & Ruark, a Republican when it comes to National politics, will get the entire three votes of New Hanover county in the Sixth District Republican convention called to be held in the Court House in this city today at noon for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress to be defeated by the candidate who will be selected by the Democrats of the district in the general primary September 15th.

While Mr. Meares has made no formal announcement of his candidacy his friends believe that he will accept the nomination if it is tendered to him. Friends of Mr. Meares will not have the field to themselves by any means. The Republicans have almost as many in a receptive mood from which to make a selection as did the Democrats of the district in convention at Wrightsville Beach some weeks ago. Among those "spoken of" are Irvin B. Tucker, Esq., of Whiteville; R. W. Davis, Esq., of Southport, both well known practicing attorneys, and Mr. S. A. Edmunds, a prominent business man of Lumberton. Mr. R. S White, secretary of the Congressional Executive Committee, has the unanimous endorsement of his county, Bladen, which has six votes in the convention, but it is understood that on account of business matters he feels that he will be unable to give to the campaign the necessary time and will not, therefore, allow his name to be presented to the convention. Mr. R. W. Livermore, a prominent business man of Robeson county, residing in Red Springs, has also been suggested as a possible candidate.

There are 65 votes in the Republican Congressional convention as follows:

Bladen	6
Brunswick	8
Columbus	12
Cumberland	13
Harnett	11
New Hanover	3
Robeson	12
Total	65

Necessary to choice, any fraction over 32 1-2.

Local Republicans believe that the convention will be largely attended and that the friends of the respective candidates will work with vigor and earnestness for the nomination of their choice. They have expressed the hope of landing enough of the votes from other counties to make sure the nomination of Mr. Meares, whom they say is the logical man for the race. They say that he can turn more votes than any man whom the Republicans might nominate and will be able to take care of himself in any discussion of the issues of the campaign.

There appears to be a difference of opinion among the Republicans of the district as to the advisability of calling the convention so early inasmuch as the Democrats have not yet selected their candidate. Some hold that it would have been better to have waited the result of the Democratic primaries. Those responsible for the convention being called for today think this is the opportune time—hoping to secure the pledge of disgruntled Democrats before they have entered the second Congressional primary. The Republicans expressed confidence of being able to secure many votes of Democrats in the coming election. In fact, it is upon this hope, vain though it may be, that they have determined to wage a strong campaign in the district this year. They have a large Democratic majority to overcome to win and outside of Republican ranks no one thinks they will be able to turn enough votes to do the trick and probably few Republicans have any idea of winning the Congressman from the Sixth district. But there is no harm in trying, they argue.

The New Hanover Republican convention convened in adjourned session yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Court House for the purpose of naming delegates to the Congressional, Senatorial and Judicial conventions. When Chairman Thos. E. Wallace called the meeting to order the following were present: D. D. Lennon, secretary; T. A. Watson, Cape Fear township; W. J. Meredith and F. A. Thompson, of Wilmington. Later J. W. Brooks, E. H. Freeman and William Crownstream entered the court room. Chairman Wallace explained the purpose of the meeting and stated also that while New Hanover county was entitled to only three votes in the Congressional convention there was no restrictions as to the number of delegates, therefore, it had been suggested that six delegates be chosen. This met with the approval of the convention and the following were nominated as delegates by Mr. Watson: Wm. E. Worth, D. L. Gore, J. W. Brooks, Thos. E. Wallace, E. H. Freeman and W. A. Woods. They were unanimously elected as delegates

The following were unanimously elected delegates to the Senatorial convention to be held on a date to be selected: D. D. Lennon, Wm. Struthers, Jr., and W. J. Meredith. The Senatorial district is composed of New Hanover and Brunswick and the delegates from the two counties will form a convention and nominate a candidate for the State Senate. New Hanover delegates will, of course, vote for D. D. Lennon, who received the vote of the county in the recent primary.

Chairman Wallace stated that at the former convention he stated that there would be no need of delegates to a Judicial convention, this statement being based upon information given him by attorneys present at that time, but since then he had learned that while there was no judge to be elected this year a solicitor will be elected. Therefore, he said, it would be in order to elect delegates to the Judicial convention, which will be called later. Mr. Lennon nominated the following as delegates: B. F. Keith, collector of customs; Louis Goodman, Esq., and William Sheehan, Sr. They were unanimously chosen. Chairman Wallace saw fit, later in the meeting, when Mr. Brooks arrived, to explain that some prominent local Republicans had suggested that Mr. Keith should be made a delegate to one of the conventions and that he personally had not objected to his going to the Judicial convention. There being no further business before the convention it adjourned sine die upon motion of Mr. Meredith.

As regards the explanation of Chairman Wallace with reference to the appointment of Mr. Keith as a delegate, it might be stated, for the benefit of those who do not know much about Republican politics in this county, that Messrs. Wallace and Keith are generally supposed to be the leaders of the apparently two local factions; that in the recent primary in the county the faction led by Postmaster Wallace, who favored Duncan as State chairman, won every delegate to the county convention, hence New Hanover sent to the State convention all Duncan men, though not instructed. Mr. Keith was a supporter of Butler-Morehead, the latter being selected chairman without contest, as all know. Mr. Keith was present at the first county convention, but was merely an interested onlooker; he was not present yesterday nor will he be present at the Congressional convention today, having left last Saturday night for Providence, R. I., to attend the Atlantic Deeper Waterways convention. He may, however, be represented by strong lieutenants. But however that may be there is no mistaking the fact that Postmaster Wallace is, to all appearances, in charge of the Republican party locally.

The convention today will be called to order by R. S. White, of Bladen county, secretary of the Republican Congressional Executive Committee, the chairman, Mr. F. B. Rice, of this city, having resigned shortly after his election two years ago.

HOT-WEATHER DYSPEPSIA

It is a well known fact that it is harder to digest cold food than warm food, and as most of the food eaten in hot weather is iced, a great amount of digestive suffering results. It is well to be careful about what you eat in hot weather, and not to over-eat, but it is more important still if you are suffering from indigestion to have it cured promptly. It is hard enough at best to bear up under terrible heat, but when the stomach is loaded with food it cannot digest and the bowels are clogged with decaying matter, the whole system becomes congested. You become subject to headaches, colds, fever, constipation and a dozen and one ailments that make life a burden. Take a few doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and you will find immediate relief and in a short time a permanent cure. It will cleanse the stomach and bowels and give your system a new start. Appetite, good spirit, sound sleep and energy will soon return and your dyspepsia will have vanished. The cost is only 50 cents or $1.00 a bottle, and there is sufficient for you and your family. CONTROVERSY OVER PROPERTY.

Interesting Action Started in Justice Bornemann's Court.

An interesting civil action was instituted in Justice Bornemann's court yesterday morning. It is entitled Nancy McCullough against Jack Smith and wife, Lottie Smith, and is what is known as summary proceedings to recover possession of land from tenant. It is really a controversy relative to the division of land left by will of Cicero Smith, who died in 1872, to Nancy Gause (now McCullough) and Jack Smith, and involves a house and lot on Marsteller street 74 1-2 feet from Second street. The hearing was set for 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The defendants did not appear and the justice gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff for the property. Later in the afternoon counsel for the defendants, Walter P. Gafford and K. C. Sidbury, Esq., asked that the case be reopened. This request was acceded to by the justice and the hearing will take place at 9 o'clock this morning. Attorney Britt, of Lumberton, appears of the plaintiff.

CUTTER GOES AGAIN SOON.

Seminole Will Destroy Sunken Derelict Off Cape Hatteras.

Returning Saturday night from Cape Lookout, the revenue cutter Seminole Capt. R. O. Crisp, received information from Cape Hatteras that the abandoned schooner Catharyne M. Monohan, had sunk and the cutter will leave for the scene the latter part of the week to destroy the wreck.

The Monohan, which was loaded with cement, floated round several days after she was abandoned. She sunk during the rough weather of the latter part of the week. The vessel is located about 20 miles west, southwest, submerged and the cutter will blow out off Cape Hatteras. She is only partly the masts and put it out of danger to navigation. The cutter was coaling yesterday preparatory to making the trip to sea.

PALMER SUIT COMES UP.

Results From Wreck of Schooner on Frying Pan Last Winter.

The suit brought by the owners of the schooner Marie Palmer, which was wrecked on Frying Pan shoals last Winter, against the tug boat Coney, of Brunswick, Ga., comes up for a hearing in the United States court at the term beginning today at Savannah, Ga. It will be recalled that the Palmer, one of the largest coasters, having been over 1,000 tons net register, went ashore while in tow of the tug Coney. The owners of the schooner contend that the tug ran the vessel ashore. The action was brought at Savannah shortly after the wreck and it is probable that witnesses will be summoned from here to testify at the trial. Both sides are well represented by counsel and it will likely be a hard fought case.

STORM DELAYED STEAMER.

Clyde Liner Carib Encountered a Southeaster Sunday.

A southeast storm prevailing off the Carolina coast on Sunday with high winds and rough seas, was encountered by the Clyde steamer Carib, Capt. Hale, which arrived at her dock six hours late yesterday. The rough weather continued throughout the day and night, while the Clyde Liner was between Hatteras and the Capc Fear bar.

It is believed that storm is the same reported late Saturday night by wireless observations from vessels at sea and at that time passing northeastward a considerable distance off the Carolina coast. The tropical disturbances begins about this season of the year and this is the second so far reported by the weather bureau.

Goes to Recorder's Court.

When the case against O. E. Parker, driver for the City Laundry, charged with the larceny of a quantity of laundry, was called in Justice Harriss' court yesterday afternoon, the defendant, through his counsel, waived preliminary examination and the case was sent over to the Recorder's court. It will be called in the Recorder's court this morning, but counsel for the defendant may ask for a continuance. Friends of the defendant remarked yesterday upon the fact that the laundry found at his home had not been used and no effort had been made by him to dispose of it. This only added to the mystery as to why he should have the laundry at his home. In addition to A. J. Marshall, Esq., the defendant has employed the law firm of Kellum & Loughlin.

MRS. HELEN STRINGFIELD.

Good Woman Entered Into Rest Sunday Morning.—Funeral Yesterday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Atkinson, N. C., Augut 29.—At 10 o'clock on Sunday morning at the home of her oldest daughter, Mrs. J. D. Lewis, of this place, Mrs. Helen Stringfield, widow of the late J. P. Stringfield, entered into rest, the funeral having been conducted from the residence of Mr. Lewis at 1:30 o'clock today by Rev. C. F. Whitlock, of Wilmington. The body was laid to rest in the family burying ground, the pall-bearers having been Messrs. Eli Larkins, D. T. Roberson, G. W. Smith, E. L. Womble, D. B. Johnon, E. A. Hawes, Jr., and J. H. Colvin.

Mrs. Stringfield was born May 14, 1845, the daughter of Henry D. Marshburn, of Moore's Creek. She was married in May, 1866, to J. P. Stringfield, who died on March 30, 1900. To this union were born nine children, six girls and three boys. One of them died in infancy, the others living to become grown. The second daughter, Miss Hallie, died about 15 years ago while away at school. The third daughter, Mrs. Jessie Lewis, wife of Mr. Jeff Lewis, died February 21, 1906. He was register of deed in Pender county at the time of his death to which office he had been six times elected to succeed himself. He was also prominent in the affairs of the Wilmington Baptist Association and a religious leader in his community. Mrs. Stringfield while not as much in the eyes of the public as her husband was no less useful in the community in which he lived, being a model mother of a large family, a kind and beloved neighbor to all in her reach, a true and consistent member of the Missionary Baptist church which she joined at a very early age. Her friends were numbered only by the number of her acquaintances. She was at the time of her death a member of Harmony Baptist church. She passed to the Heavenly Home at the residence of her daughter in Atkinson where she had spent the last eight months of her life, her children having all grown up and left it too lonely for her at the old home, eight miles from Atkinson.

NEW MAJOR LEAGUE RULING.

Section Relating to Waivers Changed for One Year.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 29.—In view of the fact that both major leagues have adopted legislation limiting the clubs to a certain number of players that they can carry on their reservation list, the National Baseball Commission today suspended for one year a section of rule 35, relating to waivers.

Under the rule no waivers could be asked by any major league club for purchased minor league players, previous to December 1st of the following, except when the player was for immediate use.

The suspension of the year for one year the commission says in its announcement, is done "in order to give the major league clubs an opportunity immediately to ask for waivers on purchased players as well as all other players that they desire to release."

Theatrical

The latest of the plays to afford theatregoers pleasure this season is a dramatization of another famous novel. This is a version of Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth's delightful book "Ishmael," one of the "best sellers" of a decade ago. Alice E. Ives, a playwright and writer of note, has put the novelist's charming story into shape for a stage presentation, and she has done full justice to the book, from which she has evolved a play of extreme dramatic worth and intense heart interest.

A capable company of recognized players and a lavish scenic embellishment, makes the attraction a worthy one. "Ishmael" will be seen at the Academy Thursday night, September 1st.

ENTHUSIASTIC CLARK CLUB.

Organized Last Night at Clarkton—Address by Mr. Smith.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Clarkton, N. C., Aug. 29.—Despite the dark, threatening weather, and the downpour of rain, the most enthusiastic meeting that has been held in Clarkton in many years took place here tonight in the organization of a Clark Club. The meeting was called to order by Geo. H. Currie and G. Herbert Smith, of Cronly, N. C., having been appropriately introduced, made a stirring, logical and enthusiastic speech, showing clearly why Oscar Clark is entitled to the loyal support of all good and fair minded Democrats throughout the Sixth district. Mr. Smith began by stating that he was no orator but just a plain business man and then, by the masterful way in which he handled the subject, convinced his hearers that he is an orator of no mean ability. Some confusion arose during the meeting and a good many hastily left the hall but the alarm proved to be only two more wagon loads of people driving through the darkness and rain and yelling "Hurrah for Clark!" Members of the Clark Club were called for and more than 200 came forward and pledged themselves to vote and work for Oscar Clark, the man whom any good Democrat is safe in voting for. More than a dozen men old and young, arose and made enthusiastic speeches for Clark. Whatever else may be said and done, it cannot be doubted that Oscar Clark has got the undivided, loyal and enthusiastic support of the people who have known him best through his entire life.

GEO. H. CURRIE,
Chairman.

CONGRESSIONAL CONTEST.

To the Wilmington Star:

In the Sunday issue of the News and Observer there is an article from Dunn, N. C. This article conveys the information that the Godwin forces are satisfied with the Sixth District contest as it now stands. Why should they not be? Has not Godwin gotten all that he demanded? There is no doubt in the minds of a great number of good true Democrats in the Sixth District that Godwin was as fairly and legally beaten as was Mr. John D. Bellamy by Mr. G. B. Patterson and later Mr. Patterson by Mr. Godwin. These Democrats are just as firm in the belief that no candidate in North Carolina was ever more fairly and legally nominated than was Mr. Clark, but if there was any unfair or crooked work done at the Wrightsville Convention, it was caused by an unfair and crooked suggestion of Mr. Godwin to an unfair and crooked chairman, and no one in the Sixth District is more to blame for our trouble than Mr. Godwin himself.

When Mr. Patterson defeated Mr. Bellamy for Congress, if Mr. Bellamy had been mean enough to have put up this great calamity howl, as Mr. Godwin has done, and if it should have gone back to the people, then Mr. Bellamy would have been in Congress yet and the same is more true of the case when Mr. Patterson was defeated by Mr. Godwin. If it had come back to the people then, Mr. Godwin would never have learned the way to Washington. At any rate, let this be as it may be, Godwin has gotten all that he demanded. He refused absolutely to abide by the "Harmony Committee's" report unless he knew what that report would be and this he did not do until the very last minute. Politics is a very deep game and sometimes the best man is sacrificed or cheated out of what is rightfully his for the sake of harmony in the party and future politics. "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time." We are willing to fight it out, as laid down by the "Harmony Committee," and we expect to fight it to a finish, believing firmly that if right and hard work will win against wrong, that we will win.

I call on every true and loyal hearted Democrat in the Sixth District to come out to the polls and cast a vote for O. L. Clark, and not be satisfied with this but make a solemn vow not to rest until each one knows that they have changed at least one Godwin vote to Clark, and then we will win by such a victory as to make the Sixth District proud of its candidate, Oscar L. Clark.

COTTON REACHED HIGH MARK

Most Sensational Advance Since Civil War—August Delivery Brought 20 Cents—Fluctuations Were Irregular.

New York, Aug. 29.—A renewal of covering by August shorts caused the most sensational advances in the history of the cotton market since Civil War times, during today's trading with August delivery selling at 20 cents, or 2 1-2 cents above the highest prices reached by any month during the famous bull season of 1903-04, and at an advance of nearly $16.00 per bale from the closing August price of last week. Later, August fluctuations were very irregular, but that position closed at 19.75, or 293 points net higher.

Trading in the new crop months continued quiet in spite of the August excitement, and fluctuations were generally narrow with the close steady at a net advance of 4 to 9 points on September and later deliveries.

The market opened steady at an advance of 64 points on August, but at a decline of 1 to 3 points on later months in response to somewhat disappointing cables and private crop accounts indicating an improvement on condition for the month in the Carolinas. But the sensational strength of August, which advanced 25 to 50 points between sales soon stiffened up the new crop months and by the time August was selling at 20 cents, new crop was about 2 to 7 points net higher. Then one of the leading bull operators offered to sell 10,000 bales of August at 20 cents. This was taken to mean that the old crop bull campaign had reached its culmination and then August sold from 20 cents to 18.20 under scattered offerings of a few hundred bales by spot people who had brought a little cotton here in the hope of getting fancy prices at the last moment, the new crop turned easier under local bear pressure and declined to a net loss of about 5 to 8 points. When the price of August jumped back from 18.20 to 19.90 on a renewal of shorts covering, however, sellers of the new crop began covering also and these positions reached a net gain of 5 to 12 points in the late trading. Weather reports indicated little change in conditions over the week end.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today 12,316 bales against 10,072 last week and 7,127 last year. For the week 90,000 bales against 55,476 last week and 82,010 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,676 bales against 42 last year; at Houston 20,303 against 10,337.

BETTER DEMAND FOR STOCKS

Rise in Prices Occurred on Market Yesterday—Caused by Disapproval of Certain Reports—Movement of Grain.

New York, Aug. 29.—The ground work for the rise in prices of stocks, which occurred today, was laid last week in the over-selling by a group of professional operators prompted by the false alarm of frost damage to the corn crop.

The disapproval of this report and the later advices over Sunday of favorable weather for the corn crop quieted apprehension and had the effect of reviving confidence in the improvement of the crop, since the date of the last government monthly report.

Sales of cotton at the New York Cotton Exchange for August delivery for 20 cents a pound were treated as merely a sensational market episode, due to the imperative requirement of an uncovered short interest. The crossing of the record price made in the Sully corner and the establishment of a new high record since the Civil War were demonstrations of successful manipulation and skillful market maneuvering with very little bearing on the problem of crop yield or intrinsic value. The approach of the end of the month and of the period for delivery on unfilled contracts made the explanation and the indifference of other options to the excitement marked the limitations of its influence.

The rapid movement of grain to market carries with it the corallery of need for currency to effect this movement and the demand on the interior banks at the reserve centers for this purpose is said to be large and is reflected from them on the New York banks. Shipments of currency to the interior and to Canada from here continue actively by express, and there were deposits at the sub-treasury today for transfer to New Orleans. These forces of depletion of bank reserves may have accounted for a slightly firmer tone of call loans today, the rate opening at 1 1-2 per cent. and rising to two per cent.

The demand for stocks today seemed to be professional in its origin, buying by shorts being supplemented by the opposing tactics of a bull party on the floor of the Stock Exchange. Of the day's aggregate sales of 337,700 shares, United States Steel, Reading and Union Pacific made up 252,300 shares.

Bonds were firm. Total sales par value $745,000. U. S. 4s advanced 1-8 per cent on call.

Total sales for the day 337,700 shares including C. & O. 3,800; L. & N. 300; Reading 94,600; Southern Railway 100, preferred 300; U. P. 69,300; U. S. Ssteel 88,400; V. C. C. 700.

FLURRY IN AUGUST COTTON.

Demand for Belated Shorts Caused Activity on the Market.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Aug. 29.—The flurry in August today due to the demand from belated shorts and the resulting squeeze to the extreme figure of 20 cents was the main and almost the only feature of the trading, which, apart from this lacked animation. Business was moderate in new crops and August advanced but rallied later. No new features in crop combinations, the Southwest is making strong efforts to market the early receipts at present prices.

Manchester reports were better and there were rumors that there is an extensive Liverpool short interest in August. Outside indifference to the market is a discouraging feature and the trade expects a stimulus from the coming bureau report.

DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Aug. 29.—The extraordinary advance in cotton was the most widely discussed topic on the primary cotton goods market today, but as the leap upward was purely speculative the matter was not regarded seriously. The demand for spot goods continues and some fair sized lots of staple cotton were taken off the market by jobbers. Dress goods were a little more active, but the call is still for small quantities of Fall merchandise. Japan raw silk was a trifle easier.

FRENCHMAN SOARS HIGH.

Ascended in Monoplane to Height of 6,692 Feet.—No New Record.

Havre, Aug. 29.—In a flight in a monoplane here today, Leon Morane, a Frenchman, ascended to a height of 6,692 feet. At first it was claimed that he had gone up 6,889 feet, but on a revision of the figures the judges found that he had reached only 6,692 feet. They claim, however, that this constitutes a world's record as the flight of J. Armstrong Drexel, the American aviator of 6,752 feet, they assert, has never been officially ratified. Mr. Drexel's flight was made at Lanark, Scotland, August 12th. He used a Bleriot monoplane.

The contention of the judges that Morane's flight of 6,692 feet constitutes a world's record is not borne out by the certificate issued August 20th, by Kew Observatory, which, after testing the Barograph carried by Mr. Drexel in his Lanark flight gave him a record of 6,752 feet.

RIOTING AT COLUMBUS.

Broke Out Anew With Serious Result —Cars Were Stoned.

Columbus, O., Aug. 29.—Rioting broke out anew tonight in the street car strike and police, soldiers and deputy sheriffs arrested 39 persons. Following an unsuccessful attempt to dynamite an Eastside car, a large crowd gathered, extending for several squares. They were stoning all passing cars when the police and a detachment of soldiers reached the scene.

Every man not in his own home who could not explain his presence, was seized. Arrests were made so fast that the rioters were bewildered and scattered quickly.

The soldiers, with riot clubs, in a number of cases struck down men in the streets and they also entered houses in which refugees had been taken. No mercy was shown those within reach of their clubs. It is believed that 20 persons were struck by the clubs.

A police chauqeur was hit by a brick thrown from the sidewalk. In no cases, so far as the police learned, were serious injuries sustained, although the soldiers fired a number of shots. This is the first time that the militia has used fire arms. A deputy sheriff was taken for a loiterer and clubbed over the head.

Among those arrested were several members of the Pennsylvania Railway car crews, who, officials of the road say, were simply passing through the troubled district, en route to work when arrested. New crews for these trains had to be secured.

President Mahon and Chairman Pratt, of the Carmen's International Union, are here for a conference tomorrow with State labor leaders. The union officials say a resolution will be adopted asking Gov. Harmon to call upon the company in a formal public statement to arbitrate the strike differences.

FIFTY RIOTERS ARRESTED.

Following Attempt to Lynch Negro at Huntington, W. Va.

Huntington, W. Va., Aug. 29.—Martial law was proclaimed here tonight after three companies of the State militia had dispersed a mob of over 1,500 rioters, who were bent upon lynching John Wayne and Charley Clayburn, both negroes now imprisoned in the county jail charged with murder.

Fifty of the rioters were arrested and a special grand jury has been called for tomorrow for the purpose of indicting them.

Wayne is the negro who is charged with murdering Mrs. John Alliff at Quennemont, W. Va., several weeks ago, while Clayburn is charged with murdering a white man here several days ago. This is the second attempt within the last three days to take the prisoners away from the count yauthorities.

NO HELP FOR MAYNARD.

Committee in Virginia Refused to Take Part in Contest.

Norfolk, Va., August 29.—The city executive committee tonight refused to take any action in reference to the contest of Congressman Maynard, who was defeated in the second district congressional primary last Tuesday for the Democratic nomination by W. A. Youn, on the ground that they have no power to allow an investigation of the vote and poll books, and declaring that power is vested in the district executive committee. There was no discussion and the vote was unanimous. The votes cast and poll books go intact to the higher committee.

J. S. CARR CHARTERS TRAIN.

Durham, N. C., Aug. 29.—Gen. Julian S. Carr, commander of the United Confederate Veterans of North Carolina, has chartered at his own expense a special train to carry the North Carolina veterans to the reunion at Norfolk, Va., in September.

MOB AT AMERY, MISS.

Formed to Storm County Jail and Lynch Negro.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 29.—A telephone message from Amery, Miss., at midnight reports a mob forming with the intention of storming the county jail at this place and lynching a negro charged with having attempted to assault a young white woman.

remedy the abuse. But the Supreme Court of the United States possessed and unfortunately exercised the negative power of not permitting the abuse to be remedied. By a five to four vote they declared the action in the State of New York unconstitutional, because, forsooth, that men must not be deprived of their 'liberty' to work under unhygienic conditions. They were, of course, themselves powerless to make the remotest attempt to provide a remedy for the wrong which undoubtedly existed, and their refusal to permit action by the State did not confer any power upon the Nation to act.

"In effect, reduced to impotence the only body which did have power, so that in this case the decision, although nominally against State rights, was really against popular rights, against the Democratic principle of government by the people, under the forms of law.

"If such decisions as these two indicated the court's permanent attitude, there would be real and grave cause to give alarm, for such decisions, if consistently followed up, would upset the whole system of popular government. I am, however, convinced both from the inconsistency of these decisions with the tenor of other decisions, and furthermore from the very fact that they are in such flagrant and direct contradiction to the spirit and needs of the times, that sooner or later they will be explicitly or implicitly reversed.

"I mention them merely to illustrate the need of having a truly National system of government under which the people can deal effectively with all problems, meeting those that affect the people as a whole by affirmative Federal action and those that affect merely the people of one locality by affirmative State action.

"I am a most earnest and convinced believer in exercising the power of the Nation where that power alone can be really effective, yet I am no less a convinced believer in seeing that the power of the States be made effective where it affords the best means of affirming popular rights. Above all there should be no neutral ground where, owing to a conflicting series of decisions, it shall appear that neither the State nor the Nation has power, and where, in consequence, able and unscrupulous individuals are left free to riot at will without the possibility of checking or controlling them in the interest of public welfare."

Continuing, Mr. Roosevelt urged that there should be more coherent work between State and National governments. Construction of laws and legislative and executive government, he said, had not kept pace with industrial development.

"Times have changed," said Col. Roosevelt, "how the relations of employers and employe are slightly different than they were before. Unfortunately, the courts, instead of recognizing the new conditions, have lagged behind.

"The worst enemy of wise conservatism is that type of conservative who tries to prevent wrongs from being remedied because the wrongs have existed for so long a time. And, on the other hand, the worst enemy of true progress is the demagogue or the visionary who in the name of progress leads the people to make some blunder which will result in reaction. Distrust the demagogue and the mere visionary just as you distrust the others who hide behind conservatism.

"Be progressive; a great Democracy has got to be progressive or it will soon cease to be a Democracy. But remember that, no matter what your enthusiasm may be, if you make rapid progress in the wrong direction you will merely have to undo it before you get along."

Condemns Untruthful Writers.

Of the press Mr. Roosevelt had a few words to say, as follows:

"I will go with you to the last point in condemning the man who in the public press writes an untruth if you will go with me to the last point in demanding equal condemnation of the Legislature who acts crookedly. I speak of the men who write in the public press and the magazines; I speak of the politician on the stump. Judge men not by the class to which they belong, but by their conduct as individual citizens.

"The only man who, I think, is a little more useful than the wise and honest public official is the wise and honest man of the press, and the only man who, I think, is a little more contemptible than a dishonest public official is the untruthful and dishonest man of the public press.

"I ask you to stand by the official who is honest. I ask you to stand by the newspaper man and magazine writer who is truthful, and who exposes corruption. I ask you to stand against the official who is dishonest, and his equally base brother of the press who falsely accuses honest men of dishonesty."

After speaking at the capitol, Col. Roosevelt was whisked back to the auditorium to speak to his old comrades at arms, the Spanish war veterans. After an eulogy of the deeds of valor of the men of both North and South in what he called "the big war" he greeted his comrades of "our war."

He urged the veterans to hold the fact that they had participated in the Spanish war as a great privilege, but not to trade on it in civil life.

The final function of the day was the banquet of the Colorado Live Stock Association. The colonel talked to the stockmen after dinner and then went to his bed. It had been a mighty busy day, he said, but a thoroughly enjoyable one.

The Roosevelt party leaves at 7:45 o'clock in the morning for Pueblo, Colorado, where Col. Roosevelt is to lay the corner-stone of the Young Men's Christian Association's building. From there he starts for Osawatomie, Kansas, where he is due on Wednesday morning and where he is to make what probably will be the most important speech of his tour.

Was Wildly Greeted.

The salute of a cannon welcomed Col. Roosevelt to Denver today and as his special train drew in at the union station he appeared on the platform of his car and bowed acknowledgements to the cheers of a great crowd. Then he stepped into a carriage to take part in the parade, Governor Shafroth, Mayor Speer and M. K. Parsons, president of the Colorado Live Stock Association, riding with him.

All during the time of the parade, cowboys yelled, whistles blew and bells rang and Col. Roosevelt was kept on his feet, bowing right and left.

As the parade passed 18th and Tremont streets the horse ridden by J. R. Williams, of Delta, one of the body guard of sheriffs, became frightened and Williams' revolver jolted from its holster, was discharged. Williams was riding behind Col. Roosevelt and for a moment the police feared an attempt had been made to assassinate the former President. The bullet struck Williams in the leg, but did not wound him seriously. He was lifted from his horse and the parade went on.

After the parade Col. Roosevelt repaired to his hotel, the lobby of which resounded with the cheering in which a large number of women joined heartily. Soon thereafter he went to overland park where a "chuck wagon" lunch was served by th. Denver Press Club.

He was escorted by the members of the Colorado Sheriffs' Association, on horseback. The sheriffs in their blue flannel shirts and sombreros presented a picturesque appearance.

A crowd of several thousand persons had assembled at Overland Park, a picturesque wooded place to the south of the city. In the middle of the park a corral was roped off and in the inclosure were the "chuck wagons."

The wagons had been brought in from the plains and were piled high with biscuits and raw steaks.

Louis Callahan, of Deer Trail, cooked the steaks in kettles. Callahan, now a wealthy ranchman, was once a cook on a ranch.

Col. Roosevelt ate his steak and biscuits from a tin plate and said it was "just great." Then he mounted the tail piece of one of the wagons and delivered his speech. He said:

"Thirty years ago I came West of the Missouri in the Red River Valley. In those days the buffalo still abounded in great herds and there was still difficulty with the Indians. The Indian's life was very hard, but they were more attractive than they are today. I hold it a peculiar pleasure and a peculiar privilege to have taken part in your life in those days. The cattle bearing my brands, the maltese cross and the elk horns were first put on the Missouri 28 years ago.

"Now traveling through the country here I am struck by the improvement in the comfort and in the opportunities for cleanliness and neatliness which the ranges show as compared with the conditions of a quarter of a century ago.

"As far as I can see the men on the ranges today ride as hard and work as hard and are as thoroughly manly as the men of 25 years ago. The greater comforts they now enjoy contribute to their self-respect. While it gives me great pleasure to think of the past I have even greater pride in the present and in the promise for the future of the great West."

Col. Roosevelt was given a warm reception in more ways than one when he reached the auditorium, where he was scheduled to deliver an address.

The great hall, where the Democratic National Convention of 1908 was held, contained nearly 15,000 persons, many of whom had waited for hours in the Summer heat. When the former President appeared on the platform the great audience arose and cheered him heartily. Waving handkerchiefs and cries of "Hello Teddy," greeted the Colonel as he stepped forward.

LADY MARJORIE'S BODY.

Found on Mountain Where She Died From Exposure.

Edinburgh, Aug. 29.—The body of Lady Marjorie Gladys Stuart Erlshine, second daughter of the Earl of Buchanan, who had been missing for a month was found Saturday, lying on the heather on a lonely mountainside near Aviemore, Inverness.

An examination of the body showed that the woman's ankle had been injured and it is presumed that Lady Marjorie, who was fond of mountain climbing, fell and broke her ankle and being unable to walk died from exposure. She was 29 years old.

THE OARSMEN "COME BACK."

Teneyok and James, Both Over Sixty, Put Up a Good Race.

Saratoga, N. Y., August 29.—In a sculling race which proved that professional oarsmen over 60 years old can "come back," James A. Teneyck, coach of the Syracuse University crew, easily defeated James H. Riley over a three mile course on Lake Lonely today. Although both men are over 60 years of age they finished strong and the time, 23 minutes and 13 seconds, was considered good.

Teneyck raced over the same course nearly 30 years ago.

Bilbao, Spain, Aug. 29.—The dock men and carmen struck today in sympathy with the striking coal miners and as a result work on the wharves here is paralyzed.

Columbus, Ohio, August 27.—A. Leonard Avenue car tonight ran over a half pound stick of dynamite in Jefferson Avenue, near the Columbus Barracks. For some reason, it did not explode. The dynamite was turned over by a soldier to Police Chief Carter, who threw it into the Scioto River.

A dozen cases of shooting at and from car swere reported to the police tonight, but no one was hurt.
